SCHOOL LUNCHES CUT FROM BUDGET

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The house appropriations committee today refused to recommend the inclusion of $50,000,000 for operation of the school lunch program in the $567,905,770 agriculture department supply bill for the fiscal year starting July 1. The fund, it said, was "not authorized by law."

Elimination of the school lunch item, which the house only recently declined to sanction, and refusal to provide funds for the farm security administration and for revival of the crop insurance program highlighted the bill, which the committee cut $93,520,737 below budget estimates.

The budget for the coming year had included an estimate of $50,000,000 for continuance of the school lunch program, with the understanding it would be financed, as in the past, from the permanent appropriation for exportation and domestic consumption of agricultural commodities.

In rejecting the FSA item, the committee pointed out that legislation for reorganization of the agency's functions is pending in the house and until it is disposed of it would not be appropriate to include funds in the appropriation bill. The budget included $28,500,000 for administration of FSA and an authorization of $77,500,000 of reconstruction finance corporation funds for loans, grants and rural rehabilitation.

Seaman Killed in Fracas on Vessel

SAN FRANCISCO, March 21 (AP) —The fatal shooting of Vaughn Boswell, 33, grew out of a request for silence aboard an army cargo ship upon which men were sleeping, a witness at the court martial of Pvt. Anthony Baldo, 23, testified Monday.

Norwalk, a ship tigger, was killed at the Fort Mason transport docks here March 4 when he failed to obey a military policeman's order to halt, the army announced previously.

FLASHES of LIFE

By Associated Press

SUCCESS

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., March 21 —Sheriff Joseph M. Schmucker has accomplished what he set out to do when he took office last January.

He's talked Lycoming county into moving a pole which has served as a ladder for escaping county jail prisoners since a horse thief first used it in 1896.

INVITATION

CHICAGO, March 21—An invitation to a child's birthday party was delivered to six-year-old Marilyn Gundersen after a round trip across the Atlantic ocean. It was posted Feb. 8 and went to Sgt. Harry Lail, a Chicago soldier stationed in England, who wrote Marilyn that the invitation had slipped into one of his V-mail letters. He added:

"Believe me, if I were close by, I would have tried to break in on that party."

RECOVERY

EVANSTON, Ill., March 21—Miss Arline Hipple didn't scream when a young man snatched her purse—she chased him.

The purse snatcher jumped a fence; so did Miss Hipple. Finally she caught him, snatched back her purse, containing her pay check and $5, and walked away without further molestation.

She told police her story after she got home.

Jerome Co-op Session Told Income Boosted

JEROME, March 21—An increased annual income for farmers selling their product to the Jerome Cooperative creamery was reported by Roy D. Smith, general manager, at today's annual meeting of that organization here.

"Last year," said Smith, "the creamery paid out $3,384,869.01, compared to $2,682,579 in 1942."

The manager pointed out that need for dairy products increased considerably in 1943 over that of the year, and predicted that the need would be even greater this year.

He said that the cooperative association last year handled 97,000,000 pounds of whole milk, which represents a stream of 10-gallon cans passing at the rate of 140 an hour.

The difference in price of dairy products, and the reduced number of cans on ranches, was pointed up by the fact that less butterfat was produced, although more money was paid out. There were 5,904,000 pounds of butterfat purchased in 1943, compared to 5,056,571 pounds purchased in 1942.

Carl Harder, Buhl, was named as top man for the year in butterfat production, with 12,270.6 pounds to his credit. The other nine war stamp winners, and the pounds produced by each: G. A. Sallee, Wendell, 11,950.70; E. A. Kennicott, Hagerman, 7,855.49; L. C. Bevens, Jerome, 7,754.19; T. G. Wilson, Buhl, 7,630.65; L. A. Hansen, Twin Falls, 7,485.89; Joe Cisler, Rupert, 7,414.65; A. Tannler, Buhl, 7,241.75; Fred Reichert, Buhl, 6,670.04; and Vern A. Bishop, Buhl, 6,604.90.

Fred D. Carlton, Jerome, was elected to the board to serve the unexpired three-year-term of the late John P. McIntyre. Directors reelected were R. H. Jacobs, Burley district; C. H. Hempleman, Twin Falls; Sam Simis, Gooding; and T. E. Schwarz, Ezen-Stanzione, non-segregation district. Holdover members are C. C. Nelson, Heyburn;

SCHOOL GIRL, 13, TAKES OWN LIFE

Police and school authorities Tuesday confessed themselves unable to follow the last thoughts of Floy Letha Mullins, 13, whose body was found lying in a street at 5:40 p. m. Monday, shortly after a bullet from a .32 caliber revolver had crashed through her head.

Justice of the Peace J. O. Pumphrey, who acted as coroner in the absence of Dr. Clarence H. Schilt, officially termed the death suicide Tuesday, and said that no inquest would be held. The girl was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin M. Mullins, who live at the west edge of town. The father is a fireman for the Jerome Cooperative creamery here.

Father's Gun

The bullet which caused death came from a gun owned by the girl's father. It entered the head at the right temple, with the gun held close enough to cause a severe powder burn, and emerged behind the left ear. Death was instantaneous.

The body was found lying in the 500 block of Second street west by Emmett Prentice, 425 Heyburn, who was on his way home from work, and he notified police. The shot was heard by Bob Winterholer, who was unloading a truck at nearby Garrett's freight dock.

Taken to the White mortuary, the body was identified at 8:15 p. m. by Miss Madeline Garvin, junior high school physical education instructor.

Parents Mystified

Chief of Police Howard Gillette, who interviewed the girl's parents, said they could throw no light on her motives for her action. No note of explanation was found, and the parents said there had been no difficulty at home which they would consider as a likely cause.

Yanks Rescue Villagers From Path of Fiery Vesuvius Lava

By ELEANOR PACKARD

ON THE SLOPES OF MOUNT VESUVIUS, March 21 (U.P.)—Hissing streams of lava from Mount Vesuvius engulfed farm lands and farm houses at the outskirts of San Sebastiano and Massa di Somma today as 200 military vehicles evacuated the last 700 inhabitants.

The flow had inundated three orchards and was trickling in and around the two mountain villages.

The main stream was flowing down the narrow valley between the two villages at a rate of about 300 yards an hour, and observers feared that both towns would be obliterated during the day.

Allies in Control

Allied military government officials, under Lieut. Col. Alvan C. Kinkaid, set up emergency headquarters at Torre del Greco near the foot of the mountain and directed the removal of the 6,000 residents of San Sebastiano and 600 of Massa di Somma.

Through the night, U. S. army vehicles tore up and down the deeply rutted and precipitous mountain road to evacuate the villagers.

Officials of the Italian royal observatory said the flows had reached the proportion of the 1872 eruption, worst of modern times, and added that they saw no signs of an early slackening.

Prayers for Safety

The crest of the flows rumbled in waves sometimes as high as 50 feet, giving off sulphurous fumes and spraying chunks of fiery lava that ignited everything within reach.

At dusk last night the threatened villagers held the traditional ceremony beseeching deliverance from disaster. Statues of virgins and other saints were taken from the small churches and carried in parades as marchers chanted prayers.

TRUCKERS ASKED TO END WALKOUT PENDING ACCORD

BOISE, March 21 (AP)—Resumption of operation and maintenance of existing conditions pending arbitration of differences has been proposed by the army as the means of restoring interstate truck freight service to Boise.

Members of the AFL Teamsters and Warehousemen's union have declined since Friday noon to handle such shipments for four truck lines, Consolidated Freightways, Orange Transportation company, Garrett Freightlines, Inc., and Arrowhead Freightlines, Inc.

Asked by Army

"The army has asked both the union and the operators to resume the status quo before the dispute arose," said T. B. Dugan, Utah-Idaho superintendent for Consolidated.

That would mean, he said, that the operators would re-hire three union men discharged Friday after they assertedly declined to pickup interstate freight from a non-union depot which the union had listed as "unfair." The union would agree to pick up freight from the depot. That agreement would remain in force, he said, throughout negotiations.

Donald G. Godman, Salt Lake City, U. S. conciliation commissioner, said he had asked union and company representatives to meet him at Boise Thursday.

No Spread Seen

He and Maj. Clifford Ferguson, San Francisco, industrial relations officer for the army transportation corps ninth zone, conferred with union representatives yesterday.

In addition to 75 Boise drivers and warehousemen, employes of the truck lines at Idaho Falls and some at Twin Falls and Salt Lake City left their jobs. Godman predicted, however, that the walkout would not spread throughout the west.

TRUCKERS READY TO RESUME JOBS

The trucking situation here continued muddled Tuesday, with nine trucks reported tied up at Twin Falls while drivers vowed they were ready to go back to work any time, and rebellion broke out against what appeared to be "dictation."

The work stoppage seemed to be over for the Orange Transportation company and Garrett Freightlines, Inc., with both those places reporting all men at work and freight moving on normal schedule.

At Consolidated Freightways' office it was said six of the company's trucks were tied up here, but nobody could be found who would say they are being held here by the refusal of drivers to work, or by company orders. The same situation prevailed at Burley, where seven trucks were said to be tied up, but men proclaimed that they were ready to go.

Nine truck drivers interviewed Tuesday indicated resentment at the actions of union representatives in threatening disciplinary action toward the truck operators, and they revealed that a vote of the drivers and mechanics Monday had been overwhelmingly in favor of continuing on the job.

"We didn't like the way Frank Gellatly answered that question," said one of the men, who asked that his name not be used.

Gellatly, representative of the teamsters' union, said: "If I knew, I wouldn't tell you."

"There was a committee appointed by the union meeting to make a public statement on our vote," said the informant, "but the union boys talked

Bott Urges Peace Program for Area

SPOKANE, Wash., March 21 (U.P.) —A new economic balance in the Pacific northwest states—"American unity" which must be achieved in the post-war period, Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen said today in an address before the Spokane Chamber of Commerce.

The governor is to speak tonight at the annual convention of the Northwest Credit Men's association. He will return to Boise Wednesday.

Bottolfsen, predicting an increase in population of the area "to twice or three times present numbers," said the region's industrial and agricultural advancement "must be supported by a progressive and dynamic regional and national peacetime reconstruction program."

13 Bodies Found After Bus Plunge

PASSAIC, N. J., March 21 (U.P.)—Thirteen bodies had been recovered today and between 10 and 18 persons still were missing from the 30-year-old bus which crashed through a bridge railing and plunged into the icy waters of the Passaic river yesterday.

Eight bodies were in the bus when it was raised from the river 50 feet by a crane late last night. Bodies of the others had been recovered earlier, including that of Walter Leroy Thomas, a pedestrian who was struck by the bus as it went out of control. Seven persons were rescued and were being treated for exposure. Rescue workers were to resume the search for other bodies at dawn today.

U. S. PLANES HIT MARSHALL ISLES

WASHINGTON, March 21 (U.P.) — Army, navy and marine bombers and fighters attacked four enemy positions in the Marshall islands on Sunday, dropping 30 tons of bombs, the navy announced today.

A Pacific fleet announcement, released here and at Pearl Harbor, said that on one atoll an ammunition dump exploded, and on another heavy explosions and fires were observed. All of the planes returned.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, March 21 (U.P.)—American bombers and fighters smashing a Japanese convoy attempting to reinforce the battered enemy garrison at Wewak, New Guinea, sank two loaded transports and three armed corvettes, killing an estimated 1,500 Japanese troops, it was disclosed today.

The Japanese personnel losses were believed to be the largest of any sea engagement in the southwest Pacific since the first battle of Bismarck sea a year ago this month.

Destroyer Hit

United Press War Correspondent Ralph C. Teatsworth reported from an advanced air base in New Guinea that a Japanese destroyer and other ships were damaged by more than 100 U. S. planes which smashed the convoy Sunday in a running 150-mile battle from north of Wewak to Hollandia.

A communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said heavy and medium bombers hit the Japanese ships in a low-level attack that apparently carried them barely across the masts as the enemy vessels attempted to flee under force draft.

The troop-filled transports, of 6,000 and 4,000 tons, were believed carrying reinforcements for a battered fighting force defended until Wewak, which allied planes have been pounding almost continuously for the last month.

NAVAL POUNDING HINTS MILI PUSH

WASHINGTON, March 21 (U.P.) — Naval observers believed today that American invasion forces soon may strike out against Mili atoll, one of the last four atolls in the Marshalls still held by the Japanese.

The belief was bolstered by the heavy bombardment of Mili over the weekend by U. S. battleships, whose big guns have frequently sounded the prelude to new U. S. landings in the central Pacific.

Mili also has been subjected to a heavy series of recent aerial bombardments which appear to have left its airfield useless to the defending Japanese garrison.

Observers recently returned from the central Pacific have reported that Mili was strongly defended and would probably have once been much more costly to take than Kwajalein. The Japanese apparently expected Mili to be the first of their Marshalls positions to be invaded, with indications that they withdrew men and equipment from other islands for its defense.

Subs Whittle 15 More Ships From Jap Supply Line

WASHINGTON, March 21 (U.P.) — Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox announced today that American submarines have sunk 15 more Japanese ships in the Pacific and far east.

The latest haul included two transports, two tankers, and 11 freighters.

This brought to 642 the total of Japanese ships hit by our submarines—422 sunk, 26 probably sunk and 114 damaged.

The sinkings were disclosed in a communique released by Knox at his press conference. Knox said that there was no doubt that the question of supply is getting to be "an extremely acute one" for the Japanese.

Conceding that the Japanese have increased their skill in anti-submarine operations, Knox observed that the skill of our submarines also has improved—perhaps at a relatively greater pace. Furthermore, he pointed out, we have a larger number of submarines in the Pacific for the enemy to shoot at.

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY AT CASSINO, March 21 (AP) — German troops fought their way back into the wrecked Continental hotel today. Enemy defenses in the southwestern part of Cassino and in the hills behind stiffened as Lieut. Gen. Richard Heidrich, commander of the first German parachute troop division, tried to make good his boast that he would throw the allies out of Cassino.

New Zealanders immediately went back to their old task of trying to knock the Germans out of the Continental.

German troops apparently moved back into the hotel in the darkness of early morning, and brought in more reinforcements to block the passage through the southwestern corner of the town.

The Germans also seemed to be filtering troops from the monastery atop Mount Cassino down into the hill positions which they were defending so stubbornly.

(BBC Reporter Michael Reynolds reported from advanced fifth army headquarters that the allied forces inside Cassino are in a "critical and rather grim situation." While the New Zealanders held practically all of the town, he said, they are under constant artillery fire from the surrounding hill and may have difficulty in holding on to their gains.)

Fight Across Rubble

Fighting across huge heaps of rubble that provided perfect cover for the defending Germans, the New Zealanders were forced to attack each nazi position frontally, under a murderous fire from enemy machine guns, mortars and hand grenades.

Official information reaching headquarters traced the strong German stand to the existence of a hitherto unsuspected tunnel running from the Rome amphitheater almost three-quarters of a mile southwest of Cassino.

German panzer grenadiers, it was revealed, have been slipping through the tunnel into Cassino under the guns of the unsuspecting allies to bolster the band of paratroopers who had been holding the southwestern end of the town since the record allied aerial and artillery bombardment last Wednesday.

Nazis Yield

Almost 300 paratroopers, who had boasted they would stay in Cassino "indefinitely," quit when the Maoris broke into the Continental hotel yesterday, but it was indicated that the nazi resistance had stiffened immeasurably with the arrival of the grenadiers.

On the slopes of Mount Cassino, overlooking the town, German troops still held onto one of the monastery buildings, as well as in their counter-attack Sunday, and it was disclosed that the nazis were using a dry water course northeast and north of the hilltop Benedictine monastery as a passage for reinforcements.

The battle of the Anzio beachhead to the north continued stalemated, although long-range German and allied cannon duelled continually.

Hungary Occupied by 100,000 Nazi Troops

By WILLIAM SMITH WHITE

LONDON, March 21 (AP)—Upwards of 100,000 German and Rumanian troops were reported occupying Hungary today against the growing threat of Russian armies a bare 100 miles from the borders of the expanded Balkan kingdom.

Some scattered fighting sprung from the occupation but there was nothing to suggest any serious difficulties for Hitler. Top-flight Hungarian leaders, including the regent, Adm. Nicholas Horthy, and foreign ministers and possibly Premier Nicholas Kallay were believed virtually kidnaped in Germany, whence they had been summoned to receive peremptory demands for all-out military assistance.

Bela Imredi, former premier and foreign minister and a Hungarian nazi, was reported establishing a government. He was said to have convoked parliament for tomorrow at which time he was expected to assume Horthy's powers.

Reds Near Hungary

A German foreign office spokesman was quoted by the Berlin radio as saying the detailed dispatches of the board of paratroopers who had been holding the southwestern end of the town since the record allied aerial and artillery bombardment last Wednesday.

FINLAND AFFIRMS ARMISTICE WISH

STOCKHOLM, March 21 (AP)—The Finnish government affirmed today its continued desire for peace with Soviet Russia but declared frankly that it could not accept the armistice terms dictated by the Kremlin.

The declaration, embodied in a long communique giving the Finns' version of their attempts to get out of the war, put the slightest hopes of further peace negotiations between Helsinki and Moscow, for the moment, in a bottomless hole, have declined to modify their original terms.

The Finnish stand apparently was predicated on the thesis that the Russian terms—which involved the withdrawal of Finnish troops from their present positions as well as internment of all German armed forces now in Finland—were not consistent with the demands of national security.

The communique said the Finnish government regretted that the Russians had not given Finland "an opportunity to express her own viewpoint before accepting the terms."

"Although Finland's government still aspires seriously for reestablishment of peaceful relations, it, however, cannot accept in advance peace terms, which practically deny the existence of the whole nation without even getting any safe assurance of the interpretation and meaning of the conditions," the bulletin said.

CULTISTS REFUSE POLYGAMY DENIAL

SALT LAKE CITY, March 21 (AP) —Four defendants in federal district court today declined to contest the government's accusation that they had supported one or two polygamous wives in addition to their legal wives.

They agreed to a statement of facts saying that the charges the government said it would prove if it were to call witnesses and said they would accept a ruling by U. S. District Judge Ritter Kennedy as to their guilt or innocence.

Attorneys said their only defense would be that the plural marriages were consummated through a religious belief, and that there are no federal laws barring such marriages.

Arrested on the proposal were Fawn Gardiner Petty, Pocatello, Ida.; Reber Kimball Cleveland and David Brigham Darger, both of Salt Lake City, and Vergel Y. Jessop, Short Creek, Ariz.

All were charged with violating the Mann act.

Three other defendants, William Chatwin, Provo, Utah, and Charles F. Zitting and Rena Christensen, both of Salt Lake City, agreed to similar procedure in the indictment charging them jointly with violation of the Lindbergh kidnaping law.

Two defendants accused of violation of the Mann act, Theral Ray Dockstader and L. R. Stubbs, both of Short Creek, Ariz., were not brought into court.

Stubbs has been apprehended but Assistant U. S. District Attorney John S. Boyden said the same arrangement would be applied to the two men, named in a joint charge.

ROOSEVELT HAS COLD

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)— President Roosevelt was treated for a heavy cold today and, upon the advice of his physician, remained in the residential quarters of the White House for a second successive day. He cancelled all appointments.

Gas Ration Is Cut Wednesday

BOISE, March 21 (U.P.)—Beginning Wednesday, Idahoans will have less gasoline for their cars than they had whisky to drink when liquor rationing first started two years ago.

Under new OPA regulations, motorists will get only enough gasoline for driving to two gallons a week. Before liquor rationing started, consumers were limited to three gallons of liquor a week.

"If cars could swear off gasoline like drinkers have whisky," said a wag in the State liquor dispensary, "we'd be all right."

Reds Plunge Toward Rumania Through Broken Enemy Lines

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, March 21 (AP)—The red army has driven to within 50 miles of the Rumanian border after capturing the highway leading westward from Soroki in Bessarabia and smashing two Rumanian divisions hurled into the gap in the nazi defenses, front dispatches said today.

(Moscow considers the Prut river the current Rumanian border. The Russians in 1940 took over Bessarabian areas which previously had been part of Rumania.)

Reds Use Tanks

The Russians, who have swarmed across the Dniester river into Bessarabia on a 31-mile front, have been able to bring tanks and heavy artillery across in strength on German pontoons captured in Yampol, Major Ignat Ashilov reported in a field dispatch to the army newspaper Red Star.

The dispatch added that the Dniester crossings have been established and several more communities captured.

Red Star said German planes were attacking the Dniester crossings, but indicated the nazis had no hope of halting the Soviet advance because of the large number of bridges thrown across the stream.

Pressing on from Soroki, the Soviets got a good grip on the highway, the dispatch said, 16 miles from Soroki after the capture of the Mogilev-Podolski, major base on the east bank of the Dniester which falls to the red army Sunday.

Far to the north, the first Ukrainian army under Marshal Gregory Zhukov repulsed nazi counter-attacks from Lwow, in pre-war Poland, with the nazis in sight of the city of Brody.

Penicillin Aids Critically Sick Buhl Resident

BUHL, March 21—Appreciable improvement in the condition of a 41-year-old Buhl woman whose treatment with penicillin began Monday of this week was reported today by her physician.

The woman, a patient in St. Valentine's hospital, Wendell, is suffering from a bloodstream infection resulting from pneumonia. Her name was not given.

"The patient," said the doctor, "seemed improved today, and had the best night last night that she has had since she became critically ill."

The patient's illness began as bronchial pneumonia.

The physician applied for the rare and powerful penicillin after all other known methods of treatment had failed, and it was flown from laboratories in Chicago.

SCHOOL GIRL, 13, TAKES OWN LIFE

school principal, said the girl's school life was normal, and could advance no possible reason.

Riley was a good student, Mrs. O'Leary said, "and she was no disciplne problem."

The only unusual aspect of the girl's school life, Mrs O'Leary said, was a succession of absences in the last month or so, concerning which a letter had been written to the girl's parents. This, however, was not considered sufficiently serious to bring correspondency, Mrs. O'Leary indicated, even though the girl was "a quiet type."

No 'Boy' Associations

No association with boys was uncovered in the investigation.

Mr. Mullins told police that he brought the girl and her sister, Joyce, 10, to town Monday, and that he assumed both were going to school. Mrs. O'Leary said Riley, an eighth grade pupil, was not in school on the day of her death. The sister said later that the two girls attended a theater after the younger one was out of school.

Riley did not go home for lunch and it was assumed by police that she carried her father's gun with her all day.

Born Here

The girl was born April 13, 1930 in Twin Falls. In addition to her parents and her sister, Joyce, she is survived by a brother, Stanley Mullins, a grandmother, Mrs. Mattie Bond, Twin Falls, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Mullins, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday at the White mortuary chapel with the Rev. Alvin Bennett, pastor of the Hansen Baptist church, officiating. Burial will be in Sunset memorial park.

mans had occupied important points and communication centers in Hungary and the whole of southeastern Hungary is now under control of a German officer whose name and scope of authority will be announced shortly."

In a dispatch from Istanbul, Associated Press Correspondent Frank O'Brien expressed the view that occupation of Hungary would give the German high command a well consolidated position behind the Carpathian mountains to the east and the Dinaric Alps and the Danube on the south and might be the first concrete indication of an eventual withdrawal from most of Yugoslavia and Greece.

1944 BEET NEED TOLD ROTARIANS

The 1944 sugar beet outlook for southern Idaho was presented to members of the Twin Falls Rotary club at their noon luncheon meeting today by Harry A. Elcock, district manager of the Amalgamated Sugar company.

Farmers, he said, are urged to produce as many acres of sugar beets as they can. Sugar is now needed not only as a food but also in making alcohol. Although much alcohol is made from grains, Elcock said an anticipated grain shortage was causing alcohol producers to turn to sugar.

As far as labor requirements are concerned, he said that plans are already underway for importing Jamaicans and Mexican workers. He declared he believed farmers need have no labor fears for this year's harvest and that fear of inadequate help should not prevent them from planting beets.

Guests of Rotary were the Rev. Mark C. Cronenberger, pastor of the Twin Falls Christian church, and Cmdr. Charles B. Hart of the U. S. navy.

DISTRICT SPEECH MEET AT RUPERT

RUPERT, March 21 — District declamation contest which got underway here yesterday with debates between Rupert and Burley affirmative teams, this morning was progressing rapidly toward the climax tonight when two one-act dramatic plays will be presented as the final in the day-long events. Miss Betty Points, Rupert high school speech director, stated at 1 p. m. today.

All contestants who receive ratings of excellent or superior will be eligible for competing in the south central Idaho declamation meeting at Albion April 6, 7 and 8. Miss Points continued.

Judges at yesterday's debates were James Tracy, head of the Albion Normal school speech department, Mrs. Tracy, and Mrs. Arena Moller, Heyburn high school speech instructor. Both affirmative and negative Burley teams were adjudged eligible for the Albion festival.

Contestants from Declo, Heyburn, Wendell, Filer, Burley, Rupert and Buhl are here today to participate in one or more of the following declamation events: original oratory, memorized oratory, humorous declamation, dramatic declamation, poetry and extemporaneous.

Only three schools have entered the one-act dramatic play contest, with Castleford, Wendell and Burley participating. One of the schools will present its play this afternoon at the Rupert high school auditorium, and the other two are scheduled to follow each other, beginning at 7 p. m.

Mrs. Tracy is judging all declamation entrants, and he and Miss Jean Miner, Burley speech head, will judge the one-act plays.

Labor Sponsoring Vote This Week

Election dates for choosing 1944 delegates to the Twin Falls County Farm Labor Sponsoring association were set Monday evening by the retiring sponsoring group which met Monday evening at probate court rooms here. Six farming communities in the county are represented in the association, which was formed last year to assist in securing farm workers for this area.

The Twin Falls, Buhl, Castleford and Murtaugh farming districts will elect their 1944 delegates to the association at 8 p. m. Thursday in their respective communities. Twin Falls will elect their delegation in district court rooms here, while high schools will be the meeting places in the other three areas.

Delegates Ray Doherty and Filer elections are 8 p. m. Friday at Kimberly and Filer high schools.

At each of the community meetings a chairman and two alternate delegates will be chosen to the general sponsoring association, attending will be men serving on last year's board, who are to explain the 1944 farm labor outlook. J. Bellwood, assistant county supervisor, will preside at the Twin Falls and Kimberly meetings; Harry Elcock, district manager of the Amalgamated Sugar company, at Buhl and Filer; E. E. Scannell at Murtaugh, and D. T. Bolingbroke at Castleford.

Farmers with special labor requirements are particularly urged to attend.

City Remodeling Extension Asked

Completion of city hall remodeling loomed as a probability Tuesday after the Twin Falls city council voted to ask the WPB for an extension of time.

The extension would be with the idea of completing the remodeling as originally planned, rather than stopping with the police quarters, which were recently completed. It was said additional work would wait until after the next budget is adopted in May.

Three building and two moving permits were approved by the council. Building permits went to Jenny Cavender, 12-by 25-foot frame bedroom addition, $300; A. M. Robinson, 167 Addison west, concrete basement walls, $300; and Ed Askey, 232 Third street east, 14-by 14-foot frame addition, $200. J. F. Huston was granted permission to move two buildings from 326 Second avenue west to north 22nd, and A. M. Robinson was given permission to move a two story, 14-by 14-foot building from 120 Fourth avenue east to 167 Addison west.

Nebraska Burial For F. E. Slattery

Funeral services will be held at Grand Island, Neb., for Frank E. Slattery, one of Idaho's best known judges of livestock and general manager of the Twin Falls Livestock Commission company.

His wife left today with the body for Grand Island. The funeral date in Nebraska was not announced.

Mr. Slattery was widely known in livestock buying and selling and was ranked as one of the best stock judges in the west. His partners in Twin Falls Livestock Commission company are Roland Hawes, Boise, and John Hawes, Bruneau.

He was formerly associated with the Stockgrowers' Commission company before he and his partners purchased the firm they have been operating.

INQUEST BEGINS IN FLYNN DEATH

BURLEY, March 21 — A coroner's inquest got underway here this morning at the Burley funeral home to investigate the death of Jack Flynn, 48, Oakley, who died in the county jail early Friday morning.

Coroner Vern McCulloch stated at noon today that the inquest will probably continue throughout the day.

Mr. Flynn was picked up from the sidewalk in Declo last Thursday evening, after falling down and injuring his head, and was brought to the Cottage hospital here by Dr. H. E. Dean and Deputy Sheriff Harold Draney. Later, he was removed to the county jail because he "became so rough he could not be handled at the hospital," according to Deputy Draney.

An autopsy was performed Monday night, and an unofficial report today hinted that a new cause of death will be found during the inquest, even though no foul play entered into the case.

The man's death was first reported as due to acute alcoholism, by his physician, Dr. Dean.

The inquest was called at the request of the family, according to Coroner McCulloch. It is generally believed that the county might have been negligent in caring for Flynn on the night of his death.

C. W. Thomas, county prosecuting attorney, is representing the county at the inquest, and S. T. Lowe is counsel for the family. A nine-man jury is hearing the case.

Probably a dozen witnesses will be called during the day, McCulloch indicated, and up until noon, he said cross examinations had been lengthy.

Pre-Easter Rite Slated by WSCS

Under sponsorship of the Woman's Society of Christian service, a pre-Easter service will be presented at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Methodist church, with the public invited to attend.

Theme of the evening will be "My Task," with Mrs. F. E. Sanders, chairman of the spiritual life unit of the W. S. C. S., and Mrs. I. G. Goodding, chairman of the missionary unit of the women's group, in general charge of arrangements.

Five-minute talks will be given with the theme, "My Task," to be reflected in each. Mrs. Zora Thompson, wife of the pastor at Hunt, will speak on the world; Mrs. Clifford Evans, the nation; Mrs. Roy J. Evans, the community; Mrs. William Baker, the church; Mrs. James Vandenbark, the home, and Mrs. Donald Murphy, personal responsibility.

Mrs. Marion Nye will sing "My Task."

Mrs. E. J. Scholl Dies in Kimberly

KIMBERLY, March 21 — Mrs. Emma Jane Scholl, 74, wife of Nelson F. Scholl, died at her home here at 1:15 p. m. Monday after a brief illness.

Born Sept. 12, 1869, in Pike county, Ill., she came to Kimberly from Colorado in 1935.

Mrs. Scholl was a member of the Community church in Colorado.

She is survived by her husband; five sons, Marshall F., Ellingsburg, Wash.; Abe Scholl, Guymon, Okla.; William W., Scholl, Rocky Ford, Colo., Norman B. Scholl, Kellogg, Ida., and Earl T. Scholl Washington; three daughters, Mrs. T. F. Burson, Walsh, Colo., and Mrs. Dean G. Cook and Mrs. O. E. Tyler, both of Kimberly; 18 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

The body rests at the Twin Falls mortuary pending word from relatives.

CHAPLIN'S TRIAL BEGINS ON COAST

LOS ANGELES, March 21 (AP)—A sound-proofed, modernistic courtroom in the old criminal and federal building was the setting in which Charles Chaplin, the sober-faced film comedian and producer, was summoned for trial today on charges that he twice violated the Mann act in 1942.

In the impressive surroundings of paneled walls, indirect lighting and federal judicial dignity, the wealthy 54-year-old comic was prepared to defend himself from a grand jury indictment charging that he transported Joan Barry, 24, from Los Angeles to New York City in October of 1942 for immoral purposes. A second count charges that he later returned her to Hollywood for the same purposes.

When this case is completed Chaplin will still face a separate indictment in which he is charged with conspiracy to deprive Mia Barry of her civil rights. Six others also are named in conspiracy indictments, which allege that they and Chaplin contrived to force her to leave Beverly Hills, where the comedian resides, after she was placed on probation there in a vagrancy charge. The vagrancy charge ultimately was dismissed.

SLASH IN BEETS, BEANS, POTATOES

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP) — Unless farmers have changed their minds since the 1944 price supports were issued last month, a smaller acreage of sugar beets will be planted this year than even the small acreage of 1943, the agriculture department said today in a report on crop prospects.

The department anticipates 615,000 acres of sugar beets would be planted this year, compared with 618,000 acres in 1943, 1,048,000 in 1942 and a 10-year average of 926,000.

The principal factors tending to hold down the prospective acreage, the department said, are disappointing yields in some states last year together with apprehension concerning labor for thinning and harvesting. There also was some doubt expressed by growers as to the availability of a sufficient supply of trucks at harvest time.

7,400,000 Tons Indicated

The indicated planting of 615,000 acres would produce, the department said, about 7,400,000 tons of sugar on the basis of five-year average yields, compared with 6,516,000 tons harvested in 1943.

Indicated acreages included: Idaho, 51,000.

A 12 per cent drop in dry edible bean plantings from the record, of last year also is in prospect.*

Growers intentions on March 1 indicated a 1944 acreage of 2,526,000 compared with 2,743,000 last year.

The department said that if the acreage of sugar beets and potatoes should be increased above that intended on March 1, the dry bean acreage probably would be decreased further.

If the 1944 prospective acreage is planted and harvested, the average for 1938-42 average, the production would be about 22,000,000 100-pound bags, the department said.

171,000 Acres Last Year

Dry edible beans indicated acreages for 1944 and the 1943 planted acreage, include: Idaho, 150,000 and 171,000.

A smaller crop of potatoes also was indicated. The crop reporting board estimated prospective 1944 acreage for the nation at 3,180,000 acres—against 3,429,700 last year.

If the yield is in line with the average, approximately 410,000,000 bushels should be produced, the board added, compared with 464,656,000 in 1943.

Early potato producing states appear to be maintaining their 1944 acreage near the 1943 level, but present plans indicate an overall for the nation about 7.2 per cent smaller than last year.

33 States Plan Smaller Crops

Contemplated decreases are rather general among the late and intermediate producing areas with 33 of 37 states showing smaller acreages indicated for 1944, only California, Nevada, New Jersey and Maryland of this group showing the probability of larger plantings.

The agriculture department reported that total plantings, reflecting mounting farmer concern over labor and machine shortages, may fall short of government goals on many vital foods and the wheat crop may be the smallest since 1939.

A department survey based on March 1 plans of representative farmers indicated the area to be planted may reach 374,000,000 acres compared with a goal of 380,000,000 acres and with last year's planting of 361,000,000 acres.

Much of the indicated increase will be devoted to feed crops, however, requiring less labor rather than direct food crops where the government wanted increases. Only in oats, rice and sorghums do prospective plantings equal or exceed war food administration goals.

The department said the wheat crop may not exceed 750,000,000 bushels unless the weather is unusually favorable. That size crop would be below requirements. Production last year totaled 838,000,000 bushels.

AAF TO RELEASE FLORIDA HOTELS

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP) — The release of 139 Miami Beach hotels by mid-summer was announced today by the war department as the latest step in a reduced army air forces training program.

Approximately 20,000 officers and men will complete the training courses they have started at Miami Beach, but future students will be assigned to the San Antonio cadet center and Sheppard field in Texas. The training programs in Florida involve officer candidates, preflight cadets and enlisted men.

"With the peak of the training program past," said today's announcement, "army-owned installations are now available to absorb the present numbers of men entering the AAF."

Other recent steps reflecting the reduced scale of the training program were:

(1) Lengthening the training time for fighter pilots by nine weeks, and for bomber pilots by five weeks.

(2) Termination of contracts for production of training planes by three manufacturers because "the need . . . for training planes has been met."

(3) Release of 70 colleges in the AAF college training program and of 14 civilian contract schools in the pilot training program.

HAZELTON MAN IN JAIL

JEROME, March 21 — Jerome county police officers went to Hazelton to arrest Dwight Brooks and lodged him in the county jail here awaiting his arraignment. Officers reported he was intoxicated.

PLEA MAY SPEED ARABIA OIL LINE

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP) — Military advocates of the proposed multi-million dollar trans-Arabian oil line are preparing to tell congress, it was learned today, that the project should be undertaken immediately.

These representatives of the war and navy departments and the joint chiefs of staff will base their contentions, it was understood, on these two points:

Delay Threatens

1—Delay might cost American companies their present complete domination of oil rights in the rich Saudi Arabian fields.

2—Unless it is started as soon as possible it will not be ready to deliver oil when the post-war European market opens up. Construction is estimated to require at least 18 months.

Their views will be presented to the senate's special oil committee this week.

Without going into the merits of the project—which has been condemned by oil industry leaders as a "possible breeder of future wars," its backers are described as considering the time element this way:

King Ibn Saud of Saudi Arabia has been hard-pressed for cash since the war began. His pre-war economy was supported mainly by Moslem pilgrimages in Mecca. The war all but stopped the pilgrimages.

Helped by British

The British government, with the aim of aiding a pro-allied and strategically-located neutral, has turned over to him funds reported to total about $20,000,000.

The United States has assisted with lend-lease supplies apparently equal to the British payments.

But this represents only a portion of the king's pre-war income and unless he can look forward to considerably increased royalties from oil production in the next two or three years he may decide to cut in non-American interests on the concession now held exclusively by Standard Oil Company of California and the Texas Co.

OAKLEY

Mrs. Edward Lovell and baby daughter have been moved from the Cottage hospital at Burley to the hospital at Oakley.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Helms and two daughters, Idaho Falls, are guests at the J. Roy Fairbanks home visiting Mrs. Helms brother, Pfc. Floyd Fairbanks, who is home on a 20 day furlough from Kingman, Ariz. Pfc. Fairbanks is in the army air corps.

ENDERGOES OPERATION

JEROME, March 21—The condition of John Falck, Jerome, operated on at St. Luke's hospital in Boise Thursday, is reported to be satisfactory. Another operation is to be performed sometime this week, however. H. O. Woody is looking after Falck's business during his absence.

Theft of Grinder Tool Brings Fine

JEROME, March 21 — Le Monte Morgan, Jerome resident, was assessed a fine of $25 when he was brought before Probate Judge William O. Comstock and admitted guilt to a charge of petty larceny.

Morgan officers reported, had taken from the closed Idaho service station last March 8 a machinist's grinder with electric motor attachment. He allegedly sold the equipment to Hageman. Police disclosed that they had recovered the stolen tool, which was the property of B. Miller Proctor. Mr. Proctor had stored the motor along with some other of his possessions in the station.

Entry was gained by making a key to fit the lock officers here reported. The motor was valued at approximately $25, and officers said Morgan had sold it for $15. He was required to make up the amount of money he received from the third party.

NORTH COMPETES IN STATE FINALS

Representing the fifth district, Charles Murray North, senior student of Twin Falls high school, will seek state American Legion oratorical honors for the district when he takes part in the Idaho finals at Boise March 25.

North won the district event at Buhl with his address on "The Constitution in a Changing World," the Legion oratory topic. He will give his winning oration tonight at the birthday party of the Twin Falls American Legion post, at which time the Legion will take into its membership Miss Virginia Mae Goodhue, former WAVE who is the first woman member of the Twin Falls post and who is believed to be the first World war II woman to be accepted by the Legion in Idaho.

The oratorical contest in which young North will be seeking state honors, with a chance at the $4,000 scholarship which forms the national Legion award, is a country-wide American assembly of the Legion. The event now in progress is the sixth annual contest.

North is the son of Mrs. Rose M. North, dean of girls at Twin Falls high school, and the late Charles A. North, attorney. He is business manager of the Bruin yearbook this year, is active in the Boy Scouts, and made the varsity debate team in his sophomore year. Miss Dorothy Call, English teacher, is his oratorical coach.

Argentina is the leading tire-producing country of the other Americas, with Brazil ranking second.

DETAIL FOR TODAY

Crumb Hunt

CRUMB HUNT is the Saturday inspection of the kitchen and the KP's by the commanding officer. The KP's work like demented beavers cutting breakfast for the still sleeping outfit and, at the same time, cleaning up the place. After the breakfast debris is disposed of, the KP's rush to the barracks, don clean clothes and file back to the kitchen to await the brass hats and the sarvice CRUMB HUNT. Finally in strides the C. O. at a pace that would put seven league boots to shame. He storms through the mess hall, eyes front and in less time than it takes to tell about it, he has gone—swish!

RUB FOR COLD MISERY

Spread Penetro on throat, chest, back —cover with warm flannel—eases muscular aches, pains, coughs. Breathed-in vapors comfort irritated nasal membranes. Outside, warms like plaster. Modern medication in a base containing old fashioned mutton suet, only 25c, double supply 35c. Get Penetro.

DRUNKENNESS CHARGE

JEROME, March 21 — Dwight Brooks, east-end resident, was assessed a fine of $25 for charges of drunkenness, when brought before Probate Judge William O. Comstock.

"I COULDN'T STAND HARSH LAXATIVES!"

Kellogg's All-Bran Brought Relief!" Says Ex-Sufferer!

If you, too, are a sufferer, be sure to read this unsolicited letter!

"My system was sluggish, after I'd been sick, and I couldn't stand harsh laxatives. I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, and found it was grand. We have a loaf of it in the house all the time. Just for variety, several times a week, we mix a small portion of other cereals with the ALL-BRAN! It's delightful! And we eat the benefit from the ALL-BRAN." Mrs. Joseph W. Pesek, 15 Englewood Road, Buffalo, N. Y.

What's the secret of such amazing relief for so many? Simply this! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN can "get at" constipation due to lack of certain "cellulosic" elements in the diet—because it is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements! They help the friendly colonic flora fluff up and prepare the colonic contents for easy, natural elimination! ALL-BRAN is not a purgative! Doesn't work by "sweeping out"! It's a gentle-acting, "regulating" food!

If your constipation is this kind, eat ALL-BRAN, or several ALL-BRAN muffins regularly. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't praise its welcome relief! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

SMUGNESS AND PREJUDICES

"I'll never be a smug Vermonter again."

There's food for thought in these words that Maj. Edward L. Austin wrote to his father, the senior senator from Vermont.

Major Austin made this resolution after seeing the tank-destroyer battalion which he commands in action on the American beachhead in Italy. There were real cowboys (maybe some from Idaho) and real Indians in the outfit. There were also boys from The Bronx, State of Mainers, Pennsylvania factory workers, and lads from mid-western farms.

In its first action against enemy tanks, the battalion took a toll of Tigers and Mark IV's that played a major part in stopping the big Nazi counter-attack of mid-February.

It seems likely that there are thousands of American soldiers who, consciously or otherwise, have taken a view similar to Major Austin's. Most of us have a bit of the "smug Vermonter" in us, no matter what part of the country we hail from. The average American (like the average person of any nationality) sticks pretty close to home and his own kind in his thinking, however much he may have traveled. Generally speaking, the southerner still distrusts the damyankee, the Brooklyn native looks down his nose at the farm boy, and even the people of north and south Idaho are more estranged than is good for either them or the state.

The army affords a wonderful opportunity to get over such insular attitudes. Dodging the same bullets, sharing the same ditch, facing the same fire in a bombing attack reduce tolerance. When men live the same life and face the same dangers, they begin to judge each other according to character, rather than accent, religion, education, or the size of their civilian salaries.

There are many, of course, whose ingrained prejudices will not be touched by any of these factors. But if only a small minority of service men bring out of military life less prejudice than they took into it, there can still be cause for rejoicing.

We are going to need tolerance and unselfishness during our peacetime readjustment. The common purpose of war has not stilled our economic, sectional, religious and racial strifes.

The returning veterans are going to be a great force in our civilian life. Their solidarity can work great good or great harm, depending upon how it is organized and directed.

It does not seem too much to hope that there may be enough men like Major Austin who have left that "smug Vermonter" attitude to influence the vote and the country to work less toward selfish and sectional aims, and more toward the common good.

If the American people will be honest with themselves, they know that is one thing this country needs.

JACK SIMPLOT AND IDAHO

Several months ago, we commented on the phenomenal success of Jack R. Simplot, and what his initiative and foresight have contributed to the industrial development of southern Idaho.

Mr. Simplot, it was pointed out at the time, has demonstrated industry's potentialities in this section of the state, to the extent that everyone in Magic Valley should lose no time in making the most of these opportunities.

Now Mr. Simplot has won the national distinction of being among those selected as the "10 outstanding young men of 1943" by Future magazine, official publication of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He has won that recognition for being "a leader in the dehydration of food for the allied nations."

Not only is this a fine tribute to Mr. Simplot for his accomplishments, but it's a real break for all Idaho as well. Nothing could better convey the general impression that industry is making a name for itself right here in our own state.

VICHY ON TRIAL

The trial of the Vichy regime has begun with the sentence and execution of Pierre Pucheu, a former Vichy cabinet minister, for collusion with the enemy. The sentence promises wide repercussions. Already there has been criticism of both the trial and the verdict. It has been stated that there was too much emotion and too little documented evidence. It has been suggested that the trial should have been put off until France is liberated, that the sentence was too severe.

But it is significant that none of the criticism has come from the French underground. These patriots remember Pucheu as one of Doriot's fascist leaders, as the minister of industrial production who helped to speed up French industry's production of German war goods, and later as head of French police working in close collaboration with the occupying forces. They remember Pucheu and Vichy in connection with summary "treason" trials, with forced labor and deportation of workers, with cold and hunger.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Ray Tucker

FRAY—A quarrel among the respective admirers of three American Presidents lies behind a seemingly unimportant real estate fight in the capital. The land in question fronts the Potomac river directly across from Lincoln memorial, and provides the most historic site for a permanent tribute to one of those chief executives.

The three figures whose names have been swept into the controversy concerning a place in posterity are Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Franklin D. Roosevelt. Each group of supporters insists that the 25 acres, which form the fourth corner of the rectangular area now bounded by the Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson memorials, be set aside as a shrine to its favorite hero.

This phase of the argument has not yet got into print. But certain financial interests which originally planned to build an apartment house on the spot were alarmed then it was to be kept in reserve as the location of a monument to the present occupant of the White House.

Whether F. D. R. knows of the problem is questionable, but the head of the national park and planning commission was formerly Frederic A. Delano, Mr. Roosevelt's uncle. Present chairman is Maj Gen. U. S. Grant III.

When friends of the World war I leader and of the Oyster bay Roosevelt learned of the proposed use of the territory, they offered the Gen. Pershing statue that their favorites outrank the Hyde Park Roosevelt both in point of time and in service to the nation.

• • •

MONUMENT—This choice piece of earth, known as the Nevius tract, is a unique area. It is the only privately owned property wing south the Potomac and literally facing the White House, the capitol and the other historic structures already mentioned. The present owners spent 22 years in acquiring it from private purchasers.

More than a year ago they entered into negotiations for construction of a five-million-dollar apartment building. Congested living conditions led to general agreement that the work should be pushed, and it received official approval. The blueprints were drawn, priorities were allotted and the financiers sent representatives to complete final arrangements.

Not until then did they submit a proposal to hold the site for a Franklin D. Roosevelt monument. At that time, incidentally, Uncle Delano was the boss of park and planning, which supervises the use of land in the vicinity of the nation's capital.

• • •

HERO—When the builders threatened to bring court action to establish their right to go ahead with their project, they ran into trouble. They found that you can't buck the government and get away with it for long.

Their priorities were canceled on the basis that the materials were needed for the war effort. Almost simultaneously a bill was introduced in congress to condemn the property and use it as an extension to Arlington cemetery, which lies just over the hill. That measure, which is known as the Nevius bill, it has been favorably reported by the house military affairs committee.

Virginia authorities, however, asked for a rehearing and it is scheduled for next Tuesday. They fear further impoverishment of their treasury if the land is withdrawn from the tax rolls, and have suggested an alternative site near Manassas, scene of several bloody Civil war battles.

F. D. R. may not be in office when the question is settled, although nobody will bet on him. Moreover, it is understood that he regards the Franklin D. Roosevelt library in Hyde Park as his memorial.

But it is expected that his worshipers will form an association to be dedicated to the task of rearing a more imposing structure in his honor. Few such landmarks have been erected by unanimous consent. It usually requires an organization fanatically devoted to its hero.

Note: Whichever chief executive's name marks the spot, he will have at least territorial pre-eminence over his distinguished predecessors. The Arlington site stands on high ground and tops the shrines to the father of his country, the author of the declaration of independence and the great emancipator.

• • •

CANDIDATES—Several recent happenings have convinced the smarter politicians that Robert A. Taft should not be discounted as a possible Republican presidential nominee. The Ohio senator has scraped acquaintance and advanced on Gov. John W. Bricker, but his friends envisage him as a prospective winner in the event of a dangerous deadlock involving the Dewey chief executive, Wendell Willkie and Thomas E. Dewey.

Henry P. Fletcher, general counsel of the G. O. P. national committee, has advised recognition of Perry Howard's Mississippi faction, and National Chairman Harrison E. Spangler has accepted this recommendation. The decision must be ratified by the convention, but that usually only a formal move.

The "lily white" bloc in Mississippi is serious about the acknowledgement given the colored politician. They say that he is beholden to Mr. Taft and will swing to that candidate first upon the credentials before Mason and Dixon's line may follow suit, even though it is assumed that they will vote for Governor Bricker on the second few ballots. In other words, the senator may stand in a strategic spot because of his southern connections.

Mr. Taft seems to have emerged as the outstanding minority senate leader in the present session. He was named permanent chairman of the steering committee, whereas Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan and Wallace H. White, Jr., of Maine were merely made "acting" heads of the conference and the senate groups, respectively.

If he plays his cards right, the colorless, unimpressive middle-of-the-roader could easily drift to the winning type by November—may surprise the candidates who now lead both private and public polls.

VIEWS OF OTHERS

THE POPE'S NEUTRALITY

Pope Pius XII, in his address from the loggia of St. Peter's on Sunday, could not more clearly differentiate, so far as war guilt is concerned, between the axis powers and the United Nations.

He appealed for peace, for the immunity of Rome from bombardment and for the relief of the Italian population, on the basis of equality of responsibility between the opposing powers. At least, one cannot discover on the part of the Holy Father examination of his words, the slightest indication that he considers or intends to recognize any heavier burden hope of freedom for humanity on the side of the United Nations. Rather—and it is said in a period of depression—if any conclusion is to be drawn, it is the opposite one; for the axis forces, though now giving way on all fronts, remain in possession of their lost and in their overlordship of the conquered peoples.

It would freeze Germany, under its racketeering leaders, in control of Europe; it would freeze Japan, lording all things Christian, in control of Asia and the western Pacific. Most of us cannot understand why the pope does not spread his arms to the skies and say: "Sister cities, none of these ancient seven hills if it will save us, in the end, from a world ruled by force and barbarism."

The importance of Rome to all Christendom is understood, but as some of the great Catholic leaders have said, Rome is less important than humanity and Christianity itself.—Portland Oregonian.

"WASHINGTON CALLING" BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Marquis Childs

WASHINGTON—The record of the Tennessee valley authority has been such that the enemies of this great public power project have been unable to find any major flaws in its operation. That is why when Senator McKellar of Tennessee starts out after TVA he has to resort to a bludgeon aimed at destroying the whole structure.

Once again the incomparable McKellar has come forward with a series of proposals which would cripple the operation of the project centered in his state virtually impossible on any sound basis. And this is the only real evidence that the people of the valley are for TVA.

The major line of attack is through an amendment which would give the authority to turn into the treasury all of its revenues from the sale of power. The director of TVA would have to come to congress for an annual appropriation to operate the power system. They would have to make their estimate of money needed many months in advance.

• • •

Obviously no going business can be run on that basis. It would destroy the essential principle at the root of TVA's success. Independent of political interference, it has been operated in the region where it functions. TVA has never had more than a dozen employees in a Washington office.

McKellar's repeat performance—he tried the same thing two years ago—is weird. A little joker might help to explain it. He proposes that all TVA employes receiving more than $4,500 a year be made subject to confirmation by the senate.

That adds up to a handsome nest egg of patronage. Some 50 employes, most of them in the state of Tennessee, would be put in the patronage basket.

Could anything as base as that be the motive? I asked Senator McKellar point blank if what they said about him was true. At one time the report was that so many McKellar henchmen were on the payroll they kept a little hotel in Memphis for a convention.

In his blandest voice, the senator from Tennessee assured me that this was a vile canard. No one in the senate, he said, was less interested in patronage. Why, a veteran of 32 years in congress, he never gave a thought to patronage!

• • •

There was a suspicion of sardonic laughter at Senator McKellar spoke. It might have come from boss Ed Crump whose hard boiled political machine in Memphis uses patronage to return loyal satellites like McKellar to office.

Two years ago the senate adopted McKellar's TVA amendment. This year the same thing will probably happen. In committee only one Republican, Senator Harold Burton of Ohio, voted against McKellar in favor of keeping TVA's independence of action.

This time two good friends of TVA are gone. One is former Senator George Norris who is now living in retirement in Nebraska. Norris fought for years for low cost power in Tennessee valley.

The other friend was the late Senator Charles L. McNary, Oregon. He knew the importance of abundant low-cost power to the development of his own great northwest. He voted for TVA and in the last fight indicated he would speak for the authority if it was necessary. At that Republicans lined up behind their new leadership, they would do well to remember this phase of wise old Charlie McNary's record.

Two years ago, when the senate followed McKellar's lead, the house refused to go along. The crippling amendment was knocked out in conference, but it was a narrow squeak. Friends of TVA are fairly confident that the house will once again preserve the independence of the authority although the margin may be even narrower.

• • •

What makes the fight more complicated is that the McKellar proposals should be tacked onto an appropriation bill. This is becoming a pernicious habit — tacking onto measures that must go through broad riders which would completely reverse some major policy.

The real answer to the McKellars is, of course, TVA's own record. Power production has been doubled as a result of the war and 75 per cent of all TVA power goes to win the war. We would have a lot fewer planes today if it were not for TVA.

HISTORY OF TWIN FALLS

AS GLEANED FROM THE FILES OF THE TIMES-NEWS

15 YEARS AGO, MARCH 21, 1929

Twin Falls public library is a member of the National Garden association and, according to Miss Jesse Fraser, librarian, has the privilege of obtaining any information which that organization can give.

The following Twin Falls high school girls have signed up for the homemaking club: Maxine Peck, Elizabeth Syster, Enora Burr, Dorothy Hardesty, Daphne Golden, Alma Dean, Mary Jane Briggs, Anna Sweeley, Marie Stokesbury, Dorothy Weaver, Fern Worth, Esther Stotwell, Elizabeth Butler, Javis Mulley and June Knudson. Mrs. J. H. Barnes is the teacher, and the club will meet at 12:15 p. m. Friday.

25 YEARS AGO, MARCH 21, 1917

The Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic gave a patriotic program and social at the I. O. O. F. hall Saturday afternoon, with several beautiful selections rendered by Mrs. D. E. Regan's pupils. Mrs. W. W. Humphrey spoke of the freedom of Russia in changing government, as the ladies of the grand army would receive as glad news of the freedom of any oppressed country.

Mrs. C. Griggs and Mrs. Jacky were hostesses to the M. S. and S. club at the Jacky home recently. Two very interesting papers were read on "The Life of Louisa M. Alcott" by Mrs. Watkins. The club meets next with Mrs. Davis.

ANALYZING CURRENT NEWS FROM NEW YORK

STAKE — A new battle among business giants, in many ways similar to the present struggle for the petroleum market, is forecast by Wall street as the result of recent WPB actions.

Albert Lasker

Donald Nelson has authorized the construction of a plant in Bellingham, Wash., to make urgently needed industrial alcohol from sulphite liquor, a waste product of wood pulp. It heralds the entrance of the lumber industry into the alcohol field, an intrusion that will be bitterly fought by distillery, sugar, chemical and oil interests and by the farm bloc.

More than two years ago lumber executives proposed that they be permitted to manufacture spirits used in explosives and other war goods.

But they were shunted by powers in the war production board on the premise that enough business could be diverted to them. The chemical branch of this agency is known to have favored grain as the source rather than wood.

The financial stake involved is not merely that of current output, although it amounts to a fortune. Scientific surveys indicate that three new major industries will emerge from the war: Light metals, plastics and ethyl alcohol.

Many chemists believe that the last named enterprise will eventually be the most important of all. They predict an annual production within a score years of 20 billion gallons or less than 10 cents each sufficient to service vastly increased numbers of autos, planes and ships.

COMPETITION — War requirements are approximately 600 million gallons. It is doubtful whether these pressing demands can be met. Our inadequate supply comes from blackstrap molasses and sugar imports, from ethylene gas, a waste product in the cracking of petroleum, and from grain which war food administration officials want to hold for civilians and for cattle.

Sawdust, wood scraps and pulp liquors could be converted as substitutes. A third of a tree is all that is turned into lumber. Only half of each log is processed in a mill. Objections raised against the use of wood residues are that freight charges are high from remote, scattered forests and other regions and that the erection of huge facilities is costly.

As a counter to this opposition the lumber magnates advocate numerous small plants, like the one granted in the state of Washington. An application for a second setup of this kind from Eugene, Ore., is pending in the WPB.

Economists estimate that machinery installed in many sulphate pulp mills could provide a hundred million gallons of alcohol annually at less than 19 cents—the peacetime price was between 30 and 35 cents.

But old-timers in the trade do not want competition from the timber belt.

CABINET—In diplomatic circles the opinion is that Winston Churchill will weed out Beaverbrook after the presidential election in the U. S. A.

It has been known for some time that the prime minister—ripe years and highly esteemed—would like to lay aside his heavy responsibilities. Two attacks of pneumonia have influenced his decision.

Anthony Eden has been looked upon as the logical successor. But important New Yorkers, recently in contact with key leaders, reveal that the London Warwicks intend to ignore the foreign minister and to elevate Sir John Anderson, chancellor of the exchequer.

Powerful critics of Mr. Eden within the dominant conservative party assert that his feelings are really hurt by press attacks, that he lacks ideas and that he has not been a conspicuous success in dealing with Americans.

Sir John is dull and stodgy. But England often prefers a solid, substantial type to the man who charms. He has had an imposing career as governor of Bengal, India, lord privy seal, minister of civil defense in the blitz, minister of home security, lord president of the council and now is the financial head of the government. As economic and fiscal matters will loom large in the postwar world, his experience is emphasized by his supporters.

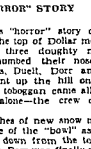
POT SHOTS



"HORROR" STORY

Pot Shots:

The week's "horror" story came down from the top of Dollar mountain, where three doughty navy corpsmen thumbed their nose at fate. Parsons, Duell, Dorr and a toboggan went up the hill on the ski lift—The toboggan came all the way down—alone—the crew came part way.

Twelve inches of new snow made a white glare of the "bowl" as the three looked down from the top of the mountain. Dorr was finally picked to guide the operations and soon they were hurtling downward. An empty space showed up before them and, with the idea of keeping it a cliff, an abrupt "turnover" was pulled. They finally dug themselves out of two feet of snow and operations were again under way.

This time they reached the halfway mark and then by some twist of fate — or the toboggan — they haven't decided which, they parted ways. The hurtling toboggan sheared all the flings of the ski course—the corpsmen sat in a cold pack and meditated — the end of a great adventure. They still tell you that Dollar mountain looks a lot different when you are on top looking down than when you are on the bottom looking up.

THE FREE PRESS, PICTURES, THE DIVORCEE, ETC.

Said the lady on the other end: "I have some pictures that would be good evidence for me to get a divorce. Will you print them?"

The dazed T-N staffer explained that pictures such as those couldn't be printed.

Said the lady: "Huh. I thought it was a free press."

SILLIEST

Now that everybody has recovered from the income tax rush, if everybody has which they probably have not, Pot Shots desires to go on record as saying that the guy who drew up No. 8, in the questions at the bottom of the federal blank, deserves a prize for the silliest deed of the year.

Said question 8: "Was the rate of your salary or wages increased or decreased during your taxable year? (Answer yes or no)."

How in tunkel can you answer that yes or no?

MODEL (?) WOMAN

Dear Pottie:

The gals in a certain Twin Falls office gave me this one to ship to you.

She doesn't powder.
She doesn't rouge,
She doesn't dance,
She doesn't pet—
She's 88 and single yet!

FAMOUS LAST LINE

". . . You'll have to walk to work, Horace—my social duties will take all the tye gallons! . . ."

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

IT HAPPENED LAST NIGHT BY EARL WILSON

UNION CITY, N. J.—Your erudite culture-loving correspondent jounced over here from New York by bus and merely by announcing who he was and giving the bus office one (1) cents, was able to acquire a fifth-row seat in the laid-headed section of the Hudson burlesque theater.

I came to investigate a shapely blond New York entite, formerly a shapely brunette entite, "Gorgeous Phyllis Ayres," who asserts that she should fill the shoes, as well as the bra and G-string, of Miss Gypsy Rose Lee.

I forgot to notice how she fills the shoes. Gorgeous Phyllis does all right on the other fronts; actually she wears no bra, which is going to be scared, fellers. She wears net panties with a large red rose on them. She kids the crowd plenty.

I not only ogled Miss Ayres but escorted her to a bar because as I have said before, no personal sacrifice is too great if I can get a story for youse people.

• • •

Since Mayor La Guardia banned burlesque in New York, many other multiple-layes have been coming to the Hudson.

They find burlesque little changed. A big false-nosed, baggy-trousered comic says to say who's kinda dirty? "You belong with Caruso." The singer says, "But Caruso is dead," and the comic says, "That's what I said—you belong with Caruso." You remember that one. A cop, pointing to his badge, says, "This is headquarters," and the comic, throwing his coat up in back, says, "This is hindquarters." Then there's a restaurant skit, the waiter asking the customer whether he wants baked potato, sweet potato, or a Walter Winchell—"Sure," he says when asked to explain a Walter Winchell, "a commontater."

Intermission:

Kindly do not leave now, folks, because after the intermission there will be radium-number, every light will be out in the thitter, and the young lady will be luminate. Phyllis Ayres happens to be so popular trueout the middlewest she's a sensation. Now we bring you her DARK-ENED novelties, "MIDNIGHT SURPRISE wit' two DELISHUS chocklitt candy bars, in this daring NOVELTEE she poses just like you want to see her.

I got one, found it was a pad of drawings of a stripper stripping.

• • •

Gorgeous Phyllis did have personality when she bounced out.

Each time she said, "Gee, it's cold out here, isn't it?" which gave her a chance to bounce volcanically. She romped off to good applause.

She used to be Vilma Josey, legitimate stage actress, but went back to stripping, now that Margie Hart, Georgia Sothern, Anne Corio and Gypsy are in other endeavors.

"Ever embarrassed?" I asked.

"Down in Norfolk, Va.," she said, "there was a nice cultured young major in the house, and I was ashamed of myself."

Then she changed the subject "Do you think I'm too hippy?"

Naturally not.

"I just lost an inch around the waist by being beaten up twice a day a day by a masseuse."

Phyllis told me that a churchman owns burlesque theaters in Canton, Akron and Youngstown, O. Philadelphia, she said, absolutely is not "the graveyard of the world—as the Troc theater there last week we worked three times a day—it didn't wear net brassieres at all. You can shift the graveyard to Pittsburgh where its 12 o'clock curfew," she added.

Miss Ayres almost backed into the path of an auto while crossing the street after leaving the bus. "Gee," she said, "I almost got hit on my moneymaker."

Miss Gwen Helfrecht, Lieut. W. S. Luke Wed

Complete details of the marriage of Miss Gwen Helfrecht to Lieut. William S. Luke at impressive candlelit double ring ceremonies Tuesday evening, March 14, in the chapel of the B-17 combat crew training center, Sioux City, Ia., have been learned by their friends in Twin Falls. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Robert Helfrecht, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Luke, all of Twin Falls.

* * *

The Rev. G. W. Dunn performed the nuptials in the presence of close friends of the couple, before an improvised altar banked with white gladioli.

Bridal Ensemble

Gowned in a coral colored, street-length suit with white accessories, and hat with veil matching her suit, the bride entered the chapel on the arm of Lieutenant Luke's best man, Lieut. R. Hutchings.

Her corsage was of sweetheart and white rosebuds. For the "something old" of her costume, she carried a white handkerchief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Buchanan, Twin Falls, and the "something borrowed, something blue" of her ensemble was a blue rhinestone brooch belonging to her maid of honor.

Miss Maurine Lake, Nampa, sister of the bridegroom, who accompanied the bride to Sioux City, was the maid of honor. Her suit was powder blue with navy accessories, and her flowers were red rosebuds and sweet peas.

Immediately following the services, Lieutenant and Mrs. Luke were honored at a dinner and reception at the Green Gables by officers and wives of the bridegroom's crew.

Final Training

Lieutenant Luke, who is receiving his final phase of training at the combat training center, was graduated from Twin Falls high school with the class of 1939. He received his commission as a second lieutenant Dec. 23, 1943, at the bombardier school at Victorville, Calif.

Mrs. Luke, a graduate of Twin Falls high school with the class of 1942, also attended the University of Idaho, southern branch, Pocatello, for a year and a half. She was a pre-medical major, and plans to enter nurse's training when Lieutenant Luke goes overseas.

At the university, she was a member of Gamma Delta Gamma, social sorority; Delta Psalion Kappa, girls' scholastic; Lambda Delta Sigma, religious sorority; Mortar and Pestle, chemical sorority; Cadettes, pep club, and secretary of the student body this year.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Luke are now at home at 316 George street, Sioux City.

Mrs. Lynn Morse Entertained at Bridal Shower

Mrs. Lynn Morse, the former Miss Edith Marion Dillon, was honor guest at a miscellaneous bridal shower arranged Monday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. O. T. Luke. Daughter of Mrs. Clarence Dillon, Nora, Can., Mrs. Morse was married Monday, March 13, in the L. D. S. temple in Salt Lake City.

Mr. Morse is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Morse, Twin Falls. The couple returned here Sunday after spending the week following their marriage visiting friends and relatives in Salt Lake City.

The bride wore her wedding dress of white brocaded taffeta as she received guests at the party in her honor. Pussywillows and daffodils made a lovely setting for the affair.

Hostesses were Mrs. L. A. Hansen, Mrs. O. Verna Yates, Mrs. Thomas Carroll, Mrs. Larry Armga, Mrs. Fred C. Farmer, Mrs. J. C. Frederickson and Mrs. C. L. Luke.

A variety of games, directed by Mrs. Farmer and Mrs. Frederickson, entertained the 50 guests, after which the bride opened her treasure chest of gifts.

Favors were pieces of wedding cake, wrapped and tied with rainbow colored ribbons.

CARE OF YOUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

What is it you want your child to do, to be? And how have you set about helping him reach the high standard? On every hand one hears adults grieving over the ways of youth and childhood. Why will the boy pick the wrong girl? Why does the girl want to do her hair in such a fussy, silly fashion? Why all this rouge and paint, blood-red nails and funny shoes? Why are little children so bold and so rude? We never were like that.

Maybe not. Maybe so. What matters now is why the children lean so far from the old standards of good manners, good form, good character. I am inclined to believe that when a child copies the manners, language and dress and character of some well advertised beauty, or hero, of the day, he is at the same time imitating what he sees in the people closest to him.

Religion in the Home

We profess reverence for the Ten Commandments, and we should. We are shocked and shamed when the young people disregard them and do what is certain to bring grief upon themselves and others. But if we are honest we will have to own that we did less than little to make those Commandments an important code in the family life. We mention God rarely. We went to church rarely. We even smiled in superior fashion as we mentioned one of them now and then. How in the world could we expect children to reverence, to obey, a code that they scarcely knew existed? There are very few delinquent children in the homes where the Ten Commandments are honored and church attendance is a matter of course. Very few indeed.

Patterns They Follow

Whose dress and manners are followed by mobs of the people they? Emily Post or a Movie Star? When mother and Auntie and Granny all dress alike, from hair-do to bottom too shoe, wouldn't the young girl in the family be stupid if she did not copy the pattern? What is admired, what is praised, what is reverenced by the family and near neighbors is certain to be the standard of the young people and children. If we choose a low standard we cannot expect the children to set us a good example and take up the higher one.

Children look to us for leadership. If we say one thing and do another we confuse them. If we want children to follow the lead of their teachers, we should not say "school teachers," in terms of derision. If we would have them obey the Ten Commandments and make them the laws of their lives, we should show reverence for those laws in our daily associations. Children are confused. They cannot "hear what we say because what we do talks so loudly." Delinquency has all its roots in the home and community practices.

Angelo Patri has written a booklet, No. 864, "Your Child and Other People," which offers helpful guidance to parents making plans for their children, obtainable by sending 10 cents (coin preferred) and a three-cent stamp to him in care of Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 24, N. Y.

"Owld Ireland" Scene of Gala Ball at Albion

ALBION NORMAL, March 21—Comish Ree hall looked like a "bit of owld sod" March 17 when the Associated Women students of the Normal were hostesses at their annual Irish colleen formal ball for 200 invited guests.

During the evening a colorful floor show of Irish songs and dances was presented by a student group of men and women.

The dance was planned and managed by special committees, according to Marjorie Roubinek, Buhl, president of the women. She explained that responsibility for the various events that make up the year's program is delegated to different groups so that every college woman works on one or more projects.

General chairman for the Colleen ball was Maxine Weeks, Burley. Other committee heads were Jean Tilley and Alice Molesworth, Buhl; Tracey Gneuil, Rupert; Dora Wrigley, Burley; and Muriel Sorensen, Richfield.

P.-T. A. Hears of Plans For Youth Center Here

Tentative plans for a youth center in Twin Falls for all boys and girls of junior high school age were announced by Kenneth Shook at last night's meeting of the Junior-Senior Parent-Teacher association.

Shook, who spoke on behalf of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the city council, also announced that four acres of land have been purchased in South Park. It will be used as a play park and when equipment is available a regulation play-ground will be set up.

He reported that the three new tennis courts at Harmon park will be ready for summer use, that the city park will be used for play by the younger people and that, if lifeguards are available, the swimming pool at Harmon park will be opened this summer.

Special Meeting Set

Plans for the proposed youth center will be discussed at a special meeting Tuesday evening, March 28. All interested persons have been invited to help make more definite plans.

Speaking on arrangements for the youth center, Shook stated that officials are looking forward to improving roads to the Rock Creek area south of Hansen and to keeping that area open for both summer and winter activities.

"Remember," he said, "we have in a city council the people demand. If people are persistent enough, their demands are usually met."

Officers Elected

During the annual election of officers Mrs. Everett Thompson was chosen to succeed Mrs. E. L. Bernberry as president of the Junior-Senior P. T. A. Mrs. H. H. Burkhart, as first vice-president, will assist her.

Miss Ruth Holcraft will serve as second vice-president, Mrs. W. W. Powell as secretary and Bernard Martyn as treasurer.

Following the business meeting a musical program was presented by junior high school students.

Presbyterians Honor Jerome's Retiring Staff

JEROME, March 21—Women's association of the Presbyterian church honored their retiring president, Mrs. Eva H. Smith, and past presidents at a luncheon at the church. Honorees were Mrs. Eva H. Smith, retiring president; Mrs. Mabla Beveridge and Mrs. Axline Fay Peters.

Mrs. Lydia Stelle gave the ovation, followed by the devotionals led by Mrs. Violet Franson and Mrs. Anna Hims gave prayer. A toast to the honored guests was given by Mrs. Ruby Gillespie and response was by Mrs. Beveridge.

A brief talk offering her appreciation for the cooperation she has received the past year from her officers and members was given later by Mrs. Smith.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Beveridge, Mrs. Lila Horejs and the church organist, Mrs. William Phoenix.

Chairman in charge of arrangements was Mrs. Alpha Williamson.

Installation ceremonies took place following the presentation of gifts with Mrs. Smith acting as installing officer. Newly installed officers were Mrs. H. Maine Shoun, president; Mrs. Myrtle Burdick, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruby Gillespie, corresponding secretary and Mrs. Leona Smith, treasurer.

Names were drawn and the respective circles were set up for the ensuing year.

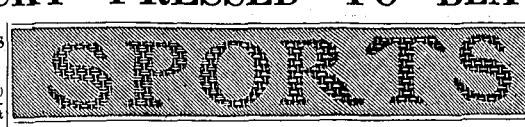
KENTUCKY PRESSED TO BEAT UTAH



16,273 Witness Garden Battle

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—Kentucky's favored Wildcats had to go all out last night to whip Utah, 46 to 38, and gain the semi-finals of the national invitation basketball tournament at Madison Square garden last night after the Oklahoma Aggies had gained the same bracket with a 43-39 decision over Canisius.

Utah, representing a fighting bunch of youngsters that tossed the ball up two-handed from every angle, kept a crowd of 16,273 fans on its feet for almost the entire 40 minutes, but in the end the Rocky mountain boys bowed to their more experienced rivals.

Score Tied Six Times

The score was tied six times and the lead changed hands on as many occasions as the two teams battled on even terms through the first half and left the floor all-square at 24-24. The lead changed hands three more times in the first five minutes of the second period before the Kentuckians definitely took command. Their advantage never was a firm one, however, as the Utes would back up to get a great shooting of Arnold Ferrin and Herb Wilkinson.

Kentucky's accuracy from the foul line was the deciding issue as the Wildcats made good on 10 out of 16 attempts and the best the Utes could do was four out of 14.

Parkinson Leads Winners

Jack Parkinson paced the winners with 20 points, many of them scored on hook shots, but Bob Brannum, held out the last 13 minutes of the first half because he was charged with three fouls, was the real turning point. The big center dropped in 10 points in the final session after going scoreless in the first period.

Wilkinson was tops for the losers with 15, two more than was scored by Ferrin.

In the semi-finals Wednesday, the Aggies will tangle with De Paul and Kentucky will meet St. John's, Brooklyn.

AAU Tourney Favorites Win

DENVER, March 21 (AP) — Two power machines of independent amateur basketball, Phillips "66," Bartlesville, Okla., and Denver's Amateur Athletics progressed handily through second-round contests in the national A. A. U. basketball tournament last night.

Defending champions Phillips cracked down on the Sioux City, Ia., Old Home Bread, 65 to 42, and the Ladies around the Chicago Americ an Gears out of the tourney, 47-37.

The Bakers gave Phillips a tussle for the first half and were never more than five points behind, and sometimes as close as one point.

In other second-round games last night the Logan, Utah, Collegians edged out Fort Lewenworth Fliers, 46-42; the Portland, Ore., Albina Bulldogs beat Lincoln, Neb., Red House, 50-31; the Cessna Bobcats, 50-31; the Cessna Bobcats, Wichita, Kan., eliminated the central state all-service team from Salinas, Calif., 56-28, and Allen-Bradley, Milwaukee, Wis., defeated Nebraska College, 71-42.

The Logan, Utah, collegians successfully countered a second-half power drive by the Fort Leavenworth, Kas., Fliers to win, 46 to 42.

In the first round cleanup, Boyl Hamess company, Des Moines, stepped up the Laramie Wyoming Spic and Span Cleaners, 54-31. Fort Logan, Colo., eliminated Camp Cooke, Calif., 63-46, and the Esso team, Baton Rouge, La., disposed of Omaha university, 65-42.

The college boys from Logan, site of Utah State college, moved easily into a 25-13 halftime lead over the Fliers, who last night bombed Denver Pilsmons general hospital out of the race. Trouble caught up with the collegians in the third quarter in the form of flier forward Alden Collins, who led his squadron attack of the Loganites, 31-31, with five rapid fire field goals.

Collegian Lyle Hatch flipped a college-try shot from 30 feet out, the ball banked neatly through the ring, the day was saved, and Logan stayed in front to the finish with the help of two buckets apiece by tall Lathel (Buzz) Winn and short Dale Lewis.

Harrison Tops Open Golfers

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 21 (AP) —Marching home with his second 66 of the tournament, Soldier Dutch Harrison converted his $10,000 Charlotte open into a one-man show Monday and took a four-stroke lead at the three-quarters mark of the 72-hole event with a total of 202.

Playing a muddy course after rain had stretched the tournament from three to five days, the flying Dutchman of the army air forces equaled his own competitive course record as he lengthened his lead over Harold (Hap) McSpaden, the pre-tourney favorite.

Year Around Fishing in Salmon Reservoir Now Open to Nimrods

The Salmon reservoir is now open for fishing—emphatically and unequivocally.

That's what Grover C. Davis, Filer, state conservation officer for this area, and Lud Drexler, secretary of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association, asked the Times-News to say.

Said Davis: "Salmon reservoir is now open the year around. Action taken at the reservoir meeting the year around was taken at the January meeting of the Idaho fish and game department and was effective with the release of the announcement."

Drexler called the offices of the department in Boise and obtained the same information—also that the Magic reservoir would be open on April 1.

Announcement Confusing

"Seemingly the announcement of the department wasn't clear to the fishermen," said Drexler. "They didn't know whether the year around status of the Salmon reservoir began with the regular opening of the season or was in effect now."

This makes the status of Salmon reservoir the same as Murtaugh lake, where Drexler and other officers of the fish and game association, forming a work party, made preliminary improvements at the association's picnic grounds site Sunday. The camp site is at the western end of the lake.

Drexler said that weeds were cleared by burning, trees were trimmed, stumps removed, trash of several years accumulation disposed of and two old privies filled. The site and roadway to it are now ready for *a power grader, which the associa*tion has obtained.

The site is 19 miles from Twin Falls.

Officers of the organization, in addition to Drexler, who formed the work party were Dr. George P. Scholer, president; Earl Davidson, secretary; Mel Bruning and Warren Skinner, directors, and Bill Bailey, associate director. Mrs. Skinner prepared dinner for the workers.

Rupert Pair Win Doubles

RUPERT, March 21—Wilber Bell and A. McCauley won the doubles event in the tournament held at the Rupert Bowling court during the week-end, Manager Robert Carlson announced late Monday.

In beating out 56 other duos, the Bell-McCauley team shot 1,311. N. O. Johnson, Twin Falls, and Bob Lyons, Gooding, were second with 1,294 and Leland Fleischman and Don Teater, Gooding, third with 1,250.

Others in the money were Earl Bell and Ross Myer, Rupert, 1,241; Earl Bell and Bill Bell, Rupert, 1,-241; A. Brinegar and Corky Carlson, Twin Falls, 1,233; Struckling and Fleischman, Gooding, 1,227.

Fred Harbour, Rupert, won the singles with 690, while Ross Myer, Rupert, was second with 630 and McCloy, Rupert, third with 628.

Marines Want Sporting News

(The following story was written for the Associated Press by Staff Sgt. James E. Hagar, Bridgeport, Conn., former night news editor in the Associated Press Baltimore bureau, and now marine combat correspondent.)

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, (Delayed) — What the marine out here needs is not a good five-cent cigar. It's sport news from home.

Radio broadcasts bring him front-page news, with some football scores on autumn Saturdays and an occasional sports paragraph. The sports pages he read so avidly back home are denied him.

We discovered his desires when Staff Sgt. Oscar A. Imer, Pottstown, Penn., and I died a nightly news broadcast for thousands of marines.

Before our unit went into action on Bougainville, someone brought up a two-week-old newspaper listing some football scores. The major games had been covered in the radio broadcast, but we used the scores below as a selection was surprising. The mere mention of the names of home state and favorite college brought cheers.

Resuming the program later, we hit upon a better plan. At our request, the Associated Press regional sports editors at San Francisco and Atlanta arranged to airmail semi-weekly batches of sports items from the Associated Press files.

Tulane to play Notre Dame this fall . . . Iowa drubs Chicago by overwhelming score . . . basketball secures 10 days old (practically red hot in our league) . . . all hold attention.

Johnson Rated Finest Defensive Heavyweight

Another of a series
By BILLY ROCHE
Famous Referee

Jack Johnson was the greatest defensive boxer who ever held the heavyweight championship. His all-around ability was so excellent I rate him next to John L. Sullivan.

Johnson made an exact science of fist fighting. The instinct of self-preservation, which he possessed to a remarkable degree, made him a natural boxer.

* * * *

Jack Johnson's youth was the most native, his prime the most sophisticated, of all the heavyweights.

John Arthur Johnson, 6-1, 200 at his best, was born of American-Negro parents in Galveston, Tex., March 31, 1878.

He was scarcely more than a pickaninny when he hopped a freight and set out for New York to satisfy a burning ambition to see Steve Brodie, who had gained fame of a sort by jumping from the Brooklyn bridge.

Financier to Flea Circus

After riding all night in the bumping boxcar, young Johnson unloaded the less worrying. The place looked familiar to him, and he discovered he had been riding about 5th the railroad yards on the train was being made up. He might have taken that as omen that he'd be on a merry-go-round all his life. And he did grab the brass ring.

After many vicissitudes Johnson reached New York and became acquainted with Jim Dowery, where he enjoyed a measure of distinction as the boy who ran away from Galveston to see Steve Brodie.

Jack Johnson was a Jack-of-all trades and most versatile of heavyweight kings. He worked as a sponge fisherman, assistant ship's cook, stable boy and hostler, stevedore, bullfighter, actor, promoter, ran the gamut of jobs from laborer through financier to feature attraction in a flea circus.

Fought All Over World

Jack Johnson, care-free, happy-go-lucky, fought over a period of 24 years more than any other heavyweight except Bob Fitzsimmons. He began in 1899 fighting a draw with Jim McCormick at Galveston, Feb. 11, wound up in Montreal beating Homer Smith, Feb. 21, 1924.

In the intervening years Johnson fought all over the world. He chased Tommy Burns for two years before Burns agreed to fight in Sydney for the lion's share of the purse. Johnson retaliated by giving Burns such a severe beating police stopped the bout in the 14th and Jack was heavyweight champion. That was Dec. 26, 1908.

The defeat of James J. Jeffries in Reno, July 4, 1910, was one of Johnson's easiest conquests.

Personal troubles made it expedient for Johnson to take it on the lam from the United States, and he cut a wide swath in the capitals around for several years, when the drums of the first World war caused him to seek his native land. On this way he fought Jess Willard in Havana, Cuba, April 5, 1915, lost the championship on a knockout in 26 rounds.

Today, at 66, Jack Johnson anticipates the future with the same eagerness of the pickaninny who set out more than half a century ago to find Steve Brodie.

NEXT: Terrible Terry McGovern.

Henry Batters Out 7th Win

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Hammerin' Henry Armstrong, former world champion, chalked up the seventh straight victory on his comeback trail last night, whipping Frankie Wills, Washington welterweight, by a unanimous decision in 10 rounds. Armstrong weighed 145 and Wills 147.

Armstrong had the advantage from the start. His cutting left jabs and hammering rights had Wills reeling through most of the bout. On a few occasions, Wills sent the Los Angeles fighter into a corner with a series of straight rights but Wills was unable to follow up his advantage at any point.

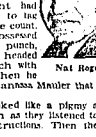
On the Associated Press score card Armstrong was credited with seven of the 10 rounds and one was scored even.

It was Armstrong's latest bid in his third come-back attempt since he lost the three-championships he once held.

Eye-Poppers

By NAT ROGERS
Garden Matchmaker

When Jack Dempsey knyoed Fred Fulton in Harrison, N. J., July 21, 1918, in 18 3-5 seconds, my eyes popped out. Fulton, 6-4½, 215, was so sinewy that he looked skinny. He had a long, lean jaw that looked most inviting for a haymaker, but a heavyweight had been able to tag him for the count. He also possessed a killing punch, and was headed for a match with Willard when he met the Manassa Mauler that night in Jersey.



Nat Rogers

Jack looked like a pigmy alongside Fulton as they listened to preliminary instructions. Then the bell rang.

Dempsey dashed out. Fulton swung his left. Jack ducked and—whoof! Fulton dropped under Fulton's heart with terrific force. Fulton went up in the air, then down and out.

Cubs Hit Staggering Blow as Passeau Quits; Derringer Hurt

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 21 (AP)—The pitching staff of the Chicago Cubs received two staggering blows Monday. Claude Passeau, who has averaged 17 victories a year for the Cubs for the past four seasons, advised Manager Jimmy Wilson he had decided to remain on his Mississippi tung-oil farm for the duration.

* * * *

It required no longer than 30 minutes of the Cubs' first limbering up drill to produce their first casualty of 1944. He is pitcher Paul Derringer who severely wrenched, or possibly fractured, his right ankle when he stepped on a rock in the home barn where the players were conditioning.

Passeau's action follows by a few days the announcement that Stanley Hack, team captain and veteran third baseman, had decided to remain on his Oregon ranch.

Manager Wilson was further upset when he received word from outfielder Charley Gilbert that his New Orleans draft board had ordered him to stand by for his pre-induction physical.

NOTES ON THE CAMPS

CAIRO, Ill., March 21 (AP)—Starting spring training with a squad of 18 players the National league champion St. Louis Cardinals had Monday what was probably the major league's best opening-day turnout, both for quantity and quality. Despite their contributions to the armed forces, notably Harry Walker, Lou Klein, Ernie White and Al Brazle since last season, the Cardinals have not yet been forced to scrape bottom in meeting the manpower shortage facing baseball in general.

NINE BROWNIES REPORTS

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo., March 21 (AP)—Only nine players reported to manager Luke Sewell for the St. Louis Browns' first spring workout Monday—indoors because of weather —but a 10th arrived on a noon train. Eight are pitchers.

GROWN ON FARMS

TROSKY TO PLAY FIRST

FRENCH LICK, Ind., March 21 (AP) —Manager Jimmy "Dykes of the Chicago White Sox announced Monday he planned to use Hal Trosky, in retirement since 1941, at first base against the Detroit Tigers in the first exhibition game of the season at Evansville next Saturday.

Dykes said he probably would use Thornton Lee, the rejuvenated left hander, as one of his pitchers. Lee has been working out a month and is far ahead of the other athletes in camp.

BLUEGE REPORTS

COLLEGE PARK, Md., March 21 (AP)—Ossie Bluege's worries about first base were eased with the arrival of Joe Kuhel to take over the spot at which the Washington Senators have been weak for several seasons.

Kuhel, in from Kansas City, spent seven years with the Senators before going to Chicago in 1938 on a trade.

WEINTRAUB IN DRAFT

LAKEWOOD, N. J., March 21 (AP) —Phil Weintraub, upon whom the New York Giants were relying to solve their first base problem this season, has received notice to appear in Chicago for his pre-induction physical examination on March 25. Weintraub, a pre-Pearl Harbor father, and 36 years old, hit 334 with the Toledo club of the American association last season.

CULLENBINE CONFIDENT

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 21 (AP) —Roy Cullenbine, who paced the Cleveland Indians last year with a .298 batting average, says he's determined to better it in 1944—unless Uncle Sam puts him in service. He is now classified in 3-A.

The Detroiter, assigned to right field by Manager Lou Boudreau, is a "switch hitter," who bats from either side of the plate.

SNOW AT DODGER CAMP

BEAR MOUNTAIN N. Y., March 21 (AP)—The winter's heaviest snowfall failed to interrupt the training activities of the Brooklyn Dodgers and the large squad of minor league players who share the cage at West Point with Leo Durocher's athletes.

Walter Olds, Earl Williams, Jerome, Referee Big Tourney

CALDWELL, March 21 (AP) — First of the eight teams qualified to enter the southern Idaho class A basketball tournament, Rigby, will arrive this evening to prepare for opening games Thursday.

Rigby will meet Preston at 2 p. m. Thursday in the opener. Oakley and Emmett play the second afternoon game. Night games match Pocatello-Buhl and Caldwell-Filer.

The tournament is a single elimination with a consolation bracket and will extend through Saturday.

Kenneth Howard, Caldwell principal and tournament manager, said officials will be Vernon Morenon, Caldwell, timekeeper; Don Hafer, College of Idaho, scorekeeper; Walter Olds and Earl Williams, both of Jerome, referee.

T. Wilbur Dakin, Caldwell, national director for Idaho of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, said the junior chamber will present championship trophies in the consolation and championship brackets.

ON THE SPORT FRONT

By GEORGE F. RICHMOND

One of the world's most famed baseball scouts and story tellers is Pat Monahan, who now combs the hinterlands for St. Louis Cardinal talent. He is well-known to many old-timers hereabouts because he at one time owned a ranch in the Buhl vicinity and every so often gets up this way to do a bit of chinning with his old pals.

For that reason this article about the ivory hunter that Ye Olde Sport Scrivener plucked from the Sporting News, the baseball publication, should prove interesting:

"Pat Monahan wonders if Lieut.-Gen. Brehon Somervell used the exact shade of meaning when the commanding general of the army service forces listed 'the high privilege of throwing pop bottles at the umpire' as one of the things for which the nation is fighting.

"General Somervell's remark was made in a speech at Fort Belvoir, Va., March 9, when he declared the nation was fighting 'for the little things that make life.'

"We have great respect and admiration for General Somervell's accomplishments,' said Monahan. 'However, I wonder if he didn't mean baseball generally but better baseball teams than Twin Falls, although this city is quite a bit larger, is because each boy there gets to handle a basketball about 12 times as much in his life as does a future Bruin.

"There's only one place in which a boy can play basketball in Twin Falls and that's in the high school gym,' he said, 'and because it is in the high school building it can't be kept open all the time. On the other hand Oakley has two places in which basketball can be played and they are open all the time.'

He also cited that Pocatello has 17 gyms.

When Jerome holds the district boxing tournament next week two brothers will compete on different teams. They are Charles Humphries, who fights in the 135-pound class for Jerome, and Jim Humphries, who is Gooding's 148-pound star.

RAILS LEAD LIST IN STRONG GAINS

Markets at a Glance

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—
Stocks—Higher; rails rally list.
Bonds—Steady; late rally in rails.
Cotton—Firm, trade and commission house buying.
Chicago:
Wheat—¼ to 1cent up; tight cash market, bullish crop report.
Rye—½ to ¾ up; bullish crop report.
Cattle—Fed steers, yearlings strong to shade higher; others fully steady.
Hogs—Receipts heavy; slow, closed 15 to 20 cents lower; top $14.30 early.

NEW YORK, March 21 (AP)—The stock market did a right-about-face today with rails monopolizing the ticker tape for gains of fractions to 3 points, many at peaks since 1937.

A combination of factors accounted for the rally. Among these were earnings prospects, persistent political optimism, generally encouraging war news and the conclusion that the recent technical slip-up had failed to bring out important investment holdings.

Rubbers, utility preferreds and scattered specialties exhibited strength throughout. Assorted industrials, while doing better, were unable to get far out in front. Transfers ran to around 1,300,000 shares.

Railway bonds came to the fore after early timidity.

PLANE OPERATION TERMS EXPLAINED

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR

LONDON, March 21 (AP)—For the benefit of the man in the back row who reads about "groups" of U. S. army air force bombers flying "sorties" or "missions" and wonders what they mean, here is a glossary of operational terms furnished by the European theater of operations of the U. S. army:

Flight—Three or more aircraft.

Squadron—Two or more flights.

Group—Three or more squadrons.

Wing—Three or more groups.

Division—Composition unlimited, depending on the number of wings available to be assigned to it.

Air force—Also unlimited.

Mission — Ordered operation against the enemy such as dropping bombs, strafing ground troops and ships, dropping parachute troops, flying diversions (missions intended to draw the enemy away from the main objective), taking photographs, etc.

Sortie—Accomplished by a single aircraft when on an ordered operation. It enters an area where the enemy's defense usually is active or on a mission in the course of which the plane is subject to enemy attack.

If a reconnaissance plane flies over enemy-held territory it accomplishes a sortie. A thousand sorties could mean one operation by 1,000 planes, two operations by 500 planes each—or one plane making 1,000 trips.

Court Considers Hay-Chop Dispute

Civil court dispute over payment for chopping of alfalfa hay in 1943 had been taken under advisement Tuesday by District Judge J. W. Porter after a one-day trial.

The suit is that of Fred W. Heldeman against Orla W. Tilley. Heldeman, who filed lien, seeks payment for chopping of what he claims totalled 138 tons of hay. Tilley disputed the amount of hay involved and the amount asserted to be due.

Judge Porter gave counsel for Tilley until March 27 to file briefs; Heldeman's attorneys then will have until April 3.

Witnesses for the plaintiff included himself, Sherman D. Mullins, Robert Rogers and Ted Schmid. The defense witnesses were C. H. Hempleman, Mr. Tilley, Champ Gray, H. B. Tilley, Ray D. Agee, counsel for the defendant, and C. A. Bulles, court clerk. Rayborn and Rayborn and Harry Povey are attorneys for Heldeman.

ALBION

Mr. and Mrs. J. Earl Powers and daughter Nancy have left for Walla Walla, Wash., where they will make their home.

Mrs. Jane Croft and small daughter are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Tremayne. Mrs. Croft has been in Oregon visiting her husband's parents. She plans to spend several weeks here and will attend the Normal school during the Spring quarter.

Mrs. Melvin Gruwell and two children left to make their home in Rupert while Ensign Gruwell is in the navy. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Buckles bought the Gruwells home and the telephone office of which Mrs. Jeanette Breslin is proprietor will also be moved into that home.

Carmel Saler left for Boise where she was called by the illness of her sister, Mrs. Jack Salyers.

Mrs. Welber Grose arrived from California to spend several weeks here visiting at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Albertson. Mr. Grose is in the army and is being transferred out of California and she will remain here until she hears from him.

CAPTAIN SINCLAIR WEDS

THE HUMAN EQUATION

Weightiest and most unpredictable of the factors guiding the destiny of the P-38s, across the north Atlantic was, of course, the weather. The aircraft are sound, dependable, but no piece of machinery is 100 per cent fool-proof, and there was another factor to be reckoned with. As for the men who flew the planes, they were sometimes less predictable than the fighters themselves.

The following excerpts from a letter by flight controller Lieutenant Colonel Landry to an officer at the Maine base show clearly the sky-high overseats which turn planes back were by no means the only headaches suffered by the flight officers:

"July ——
1030 GMT

John:

Oh, for the life of a controller! Here is the latest. The weather locally was not too good this a.m., but about noon it improved to the point where the chaps in the fighters looked good. All the fighters here, Tomcat Black and Tomcat Blue, were ready to go at 1200Z (Greenwich Mean Time, not Greenland Mountain Time!)—or so I thought.

All pilots seemed to understand excepting the four fighter pilots of Tomcat Black, who took it upon themselves to go on a hiking sightseeing trip to the ice cap.

At 1200 when I was prepared to assemble pilots for briefing I found them absent. God! I sent out all sorts of searching parties. They searched all afternoon. About 1630 a bus load of them returned. I did a fair-sized amount of reprimanding, and when I asked them if they could get ready to go in 15 minutes, one of them said he was so tired he didn't think he should fly. Well that topped it. Of course I wouldn't want to send them, and didn't want to send an incomplete flight.

This was about 1730. About 1830 one more of the culprits came in. I gave him a going over and put him in "restricted to quarters." Did I say I had done this to the other two? I did.

About this time the local weatherman was getting mournful and I decided against a movement order. It is now 0010 and two of the jokers are still out. They will be restricted also . . . Johnny, we'll never win this war unless we imbue our men with the idea of discipline and a sense of the serious basis as they have ahead of them. We've all been led to believe that our manpower and gigantic mass production will overwhelm the world. It will not. War isn't a lark, and having more bombers or more tanks or more of anything isn't the answer. It is the individual attitude that makes for victory. Well, nuts. There I go again.

• • •

Despite occasional lapses like this, however, the expedition was progressing with wonderful success.

Many of the Lightnings had reached Iceland, the first contact with a habitable shore since Maine. Both Labrador and Greenland were strictly end-of-the-world propositions.

The P-38s appeared out of the western skies and came in to land on concrete runways thoughtfully constructed by the Germans, who a few years previously had constructed most of the new Reykjavik airdrome as well as the university buildings just north of the field.

The first elements to tackle the last leg of the trans-Atlantic mass flight totaled eight Lightnings. At briefing time the pilots were told to expect occasional showers, but not to worry about them, because they would be only local ones.

Thirty minutes out they ran into the showers. They also saw a high overcast ahead. Flying into it, the two elements of four planes immediately lost sight of each other, as well as the Fortresses which had been leading the way. The Fortress pilot leading the first element radioed that he was going to lower down to water level and "get on a course of 160 degrees." The fighters were to follow the leader.

The first quartet executed a 180 turn, which put it on a course leading directly back to Iceland—the only safe move under such hazardous weather conditions.

The second element, however, completely misinterpreted their instructions. They let down to almost water level, but instead of making the prescribed turn, they changed course to 160. They were headed away from land through clouds so thick that the two P-38s on the wing of their Fortress were unable to see across to the others.

Finally they broke out between cloud layers and radioed to the Fortress. "Do you know where we are?"

"No," was the reply.

NEXT: A Hole in the Clouds.

BUYING OF WOOL IN ICELAND HIT

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—A foreign economic administration official told a house agriculture subcommittee Monday the agency had bought 2,500,000 pounds of Iceland wools now unneeded by this country and stood to lose $100,000 on the transaction.

Details of the purchase were disclosed by Sidney Scheuer, executive director of the FEA bureau of supplies, who said Iceland had been paid 60 cents a pound, grease basis, for wool like that which brings American growers 41 cents.

Scheuer explained that the presence of American military forces in Iceland and the utilization of natives there in building installations necessary to the allied war effort had caused a great increase in Iceland wool production costs, making it politically expedient for this country to buy up the 2,500,000 pounds. He said about half of the amount had been sold.

Comment Declined

Although Scheuer declined to comment for the record about the transaction, Representative Fisher, D., Tex., said he had been informed 7,000,000 pounds of Turkish mohair had been brought jointly by the U.S. and Great Britain for approximately $7,000,000 or roughly $1 a pound, compared with 60 cents a pound received by American growers for similar or slightly better grade.

Byron Wilson, McKinley, Wyo., legislative representative of the National Wool Growers association, suggested to the committee that one means of solving the wool surplus problem in this country might be requesting the British government to raise their "issue" price on wools about 15 per cent. This would increase to about $1.15, scoured basis, the price of Australian wools now coming into this country at slightly over $1 a pound and which are competitive with American wools for which the commodity credit corporation pays $1.18 a pound.

Same Program Seen

It generally was agreed that the program would be substantially the same as that followed last year. One change decided upon was that the government would assume warehousing and insurance cost of the fiber from the time it was first delivered from the grower to a warehouse, and it was tentatively agreed that growers should be permitted to sell the wool to dealers in 3,000-pound maximum lots, compared with a 1,000-pound limit which applied to the 1943 clip.

Wilson said the discussions were "satisfactory" to the American wool growing industry.

Stolen Machinery Is Recovered by Deputy

JEROME, March 21—Jim Purdy, Jerome county deputy sheriff, reported today that he had recovered in Hagerman a grinder and electric motor which had been taken earlier this month from the closed Idaho service station on South Lincoln avenue. Police are holding a suspect and hearing will be held this week.

REQUEST BY U. S. IRKED DE VALERA

By ROGER D. GREENE

BELFAST, NORTHERN IRELAND, March 21 (AP)—I was informed on excellent authority on my recent visit to Dublin that Prime Minister Eamon De Valera gave way to expressions of anger at the recent American request for ousting of axis diplomats from Eire, thumped the table and shouted: "This is an ultimatum."

Coolly the American minister, David Gray, replied:

"If you will read the note again you will find there is no 'or else' clause and no time limit. It is not an ultimatum. It is only a sincere effort by the United States government to safeguard the lives of thousands of American soldiers from the very real danger of axis espionage agents in Eire."

Rejection Announced

Eire's rejection of the request was announced March 10.

Ever since Prime Minister Churchill warned in midweek that the allies would isolate Eire from the outer world, Eire's censorship has been rigid and unsmilingly polite toward British and American correspondents.

"We have a reputation of being the toughest censorship in the world," Eire's chief press censor told the Associated Press in Dublin. "We might as well live up to it."

He spoke bitterly of "those two powerful but misguided nations, the United States and Great Britain."

No actual news on the crisis has been permitted to leave Dublin. Irish newspapers, solidly supporting De Valera's regime for the first time in many years, are printing only the most favorable editorial comments on Eire's stand from Britain, the United States, Switzerland and even China.

Dispatches Trimmed

Outbound dispatches have been trimmed of all but the most innocuous information. American and British correspondents found even their personal telephone calls to friends within Dublin itself were being tapped, with little effort to conceal official eavesdropping.

The Associated Press was not permitted by the Irish censors to send out a story printed on the front page of De Valera's own newspaper, "The Irish Press," about the attendance of both the German and Japanese envoys at an Irish Red Cross function St. Patrick's night at Dublin castle, Eire's Whitehall.

The American minister was not invited, nor did the British minister attend.

ALBION FACULTY HONORS POWERS

ALBION NOMAL, March 21 — Speaking at a farewell dinner given by the faculty to honor him and Mrs. Powers, J. Earl Powers, registrar here for the past 17 years, said that since September, 1927, he had enrolled 6,023 students in the Normal school and that during that period 2,293 had been graduated with Idaho certification.

He predicted that three years will bring larger enrollment and reminded his listeners that all schools without army and navy programs have suffered drastic cuts in student numbers.

Goes to Washington

Mr. Powers, whose resignation became effective March 18, left to take the position of educational director at the Washington state penitentiary, Walla Walla. He is the second Albion faculty member to accept a staff position at the Washington institution, Richard L. Averill having left the psychology department in February to become psychologist at the Washington prison.

"The Washington institution is getting a good stable man in Mr. Powers," said President Raymond R. Snyder, who again deplored the low wage scale existing in Idaho which makes our schools good hunting grounds for school officials in nearby states needing well-trained teachers. He quoted an Albion trained teacher who explained why she was leaving the state, "It's just as patriotic to teach in Oregon at a third more salary."

Post-War Expansion

"According to many economic forecasts, post-war Idaho is slated for broad expansion in both industry and agriculture," the president said. "New and vast irrigation projects have already been blueprinted. Population will certainly increase. It is easier and cheaper to keep the good teachers we have than it will be to get them back. Short-sightedness is always costly."

Mr. Powers took his A. B. degree at Ball State teachers' college, Muncie, Ind., and his Ph. M. degree at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, where he has also done advanced graduate work.

Mr. Powers, a member of the Burley Rotary club for the past nine years, was president of that group in 1942-43, and for three years served on the board of directors. He is a past master of the Albion Masonic lodge and was secretary of the organization when he left.

RUPERT

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moncher have gone to Albany, Ore., to visit their son-in-law and daughter, Captain and Mrs. William Mason.

E. Bowman, Hopewell district, who has been ill several weeks, is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul French have returned from Nampa where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Anderson, and attended the production of "Dee-Eyes Right." Their daughter, Miss Bette French, played the feminine lead.

Mrs. Ed Schoenhals has returned from a two-week visit with her daughter, Miss Jean Schoenhals, Boise, and with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Landon, Payette.

N. K. Jensen, state president of the Laymen's League of the Christian church, accompanied by the Rev. D. E. Allen, W. A. Allen, Basil Trentham, Dr. A. E. Johnson and Ross Wilhelm, attended a dinner meeting of the district Laymen's league in Jerome.

Miss Irene Goode, student at the University of Oregon, Eugene, has returned there after a 10-day vacation here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Goode.

Los Angeles salvages about 1,000 tons of tin cans and other metals from its scrap heaps monthly.

2-Year Overseas Veteran on Visit

SPRINGDALE, March 21 — Home and "mighty glad to be there" is Pfc. Ray Allen, who has spent the past 24 months on overseas duty. He has a traveling furlough, and is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Burgess.

ALLEN

Outstanding in his memory are raids over Dutch Harbor in which he participated, and several of the missions over Alaska in which he had a part.

A well-known Springdale youth, he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Burgess for the past eight years.

He enlisted in the army.

Sailor, 22, Earns CPO Rank on Sub

One of four brothers now serving in the south Pacific area, Horace E. Brown, Twin Falls, was recently promoted to a chief petty officer. He is a machinists mate aboard a submarine and has been overseas for approximately three years.

BROWN

His three brothers also on duty in the Pacific are: Navy Lieut. Earl W. Brown, Oliver Brown, navy radioman, and Virgil Brown, serving with U. S. army forces under General MacArthur.

Chief Brown, who is 32 years old, enlisted in the navy at 17. He attended public schools in Twin Falls and lived most of his life here before entering the service. According to a recent letter to his mother, Mrs. Lily T. Brown, route three, Twin Falls, he expects to be home on leave this summer. News of his promotion came through his sister, Mrs. Laura Jess, Twin Falls.

214 Given Draft Tests at Center

HUNT, Ida., March 21 (U.P.)—The travelling medical board from Fort Douglas, Utah, examined 214 Japanese-Americans at the Minidoka relocation center here Saturday and accepted 143 for military service.

The board said most of the rejections were for bad eyesight.

One board member said a "particularly good spirit" was found among the Japanese, adding that "a number of them expressed themselves as wanting to get into the fight so they can prove themselves Americans."

RAY POTTER VISITS

JEROME, March 21—Ray Potter, Portland, son of Commissioner Ben Potter, Kimberly, stopped in Jerome to visit Jim Purdy, deputy sheriff. The two were formerly employed at the Swan Island shipyards in the Oregon coast city. Mr. Potter will enter the armed services soon.

U. S. RANKING OF WAR JOBS URGED

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP) — Creation of a government board to rank industries by their war importance as a step toward rolling on the draft status of young workers was suggested Monday by Senator Brewster, R., Me.

Such a procedure, he said, might be the "most expeditious way" of easing the plight of such industries as the tool and die trade which appealed to the senate military affairs committee for deferment of 75,000 skilled workers under the age of 26. These workers comprise, the committee was told, about one-third of the industry's employes.

If they are drafted, M. W. Rowell, general manager of the Tool and Die Manufacturers' association, asserted, the output of tools, dies and gauges for war production will drop 30 per cent.

Brewster, author of a bill now before the committee to direct temporary deferments of necessary workers of all ages, told the tool and die representatives that "some simple and direct way" is needed to settle the problem of essentiality. He suggested the industry take its manpower problem to War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson.

Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey, in an appeal to boards to call up more men, declared that the only registrants who should be considered for occupational deferment are those "whose individual efforts in a critical activity make them virtually indispensable."

There are 26 United States national parks.

Lieut. C. A. Dennis In Buhl on Leave

BUHL, March 21—Lieut. Cecil A. Dennis, former Buhl boy, is in Buhl visiting his sister on a 10-day leave after receiving his commission at Phoenix, Ariz., on March 12.

He is well known in Buhl, having received his schooling here and graduating with the class of 1941. Since leaving Buhl he has taken his primary aviation training at Ryan field, Hemet, Calif., his basic at Gardner field, Taft, Calif., and his advanced at Luke field, Phoenix.

He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dennis, former owners of the Dennis Produce company in Buhl, but at present living in Boise. Mr. and Mrs. Dennis are also here during their son's leave. Lieutenant Dennis will return to Luke field at the close of his visit for further assignment.

Membership Grows In Youths' Council

FAIRFIELD, March 21—Membership of the Youth Council is steadily growing. At the last meeting, devotions were given by Betty Howard, music was under the direction of Roselyn Smutz, lesson was given by Mrs. Smutz, program was managed by Bob Orr, games by Delia Anderson and Jessie Eunice Jones; refreshments, Mrs. Nyda Clutter. Hostess was Mrs. Fred Orr.

SMALL JEROME FIRE

JEROME, March 21 — Local fire department was called to extinguish a blaze near Klein's auto court. No property damage resulted. Firemen said persons at the site attempted to burn weeds and that the alarm was turned in when it was believed that the blaze had gained too much headway.

Six Accepted by Gooding Grange

GOODING, March 21—Six new members were accepted into Gooding Grange here, including J. N. Quinn, Dr. J. C. Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cheney and Mr. and Mrs. Staley Cheney.

During the same meeting, conducted by Ray Stephens, master, resignations of Mrs. Leona Varin, secretary, and Fred Locke, treasurer, were accepted. Mrs. Marie Shipman was elected secretary and Roy Boyer, treasurer.

John W. Clouser, local grocer, spoke concerning food stamps and tokens now in use. A discussion on subsidies was presented by Bud Quigley and Ralph Smith.
